FLORENCE Oil Cook Stoves

1. No trouble to light it—turn a lever and apply a lighted match.
2. Burns kerosene with a clean, hot, blue flame.
3. Smokeless and odorless, wickless and valveless.
4. The 12-inch burner is larger and more powerful than used in any oil stove, yet a gallon of kerosene will keep one at full heat for about 21 hours.
5. Any heat needed, intense, medium, low—easily obtained by turning on a control lever.

FLORENCE OVENS

M. E. Ladies Aid Society

The regular monthly meeting of the M. E. Ladies Aid was held last Thursday in the dining room of the Community Hall.

Mrs. A. L. Ross, chairman of the Harmony Circle; Mrs. E. F. Holcomb, chairman of the Golden Rule Circle; Mrs. Vincent Evans, chairman of the "Zippers" and Mrs. Norman Barrons, chairman of the Booster Circle each arranged for their own table which was filled to overflowing with good things to eat.

About eighty guests were entertained at a St. Patrick's party with the following program:

Mrs. Vincent Evans gave a whistling number accompanied by Mrs. S. D. Harger at the piano. Talks were given by Mrs. C. C. DePuy, president of the Pontiac Central M. E. Ladies Aid; Mrs. Ralph Tyler, president of the Clarenceville M. E. Ladies Aid and Mrs. Ella Irish, vice president of the Farmington Ladies Aid.

Rev. E. F. Dunlay entertained with an Irish reading.

Each circle evidenced much enthusiasm by their peppy yells and interest manifested by having a full quota present.

Cafeteria Supper

The Progressive Class of the M. E. Church will give a cafeteria supper at the M. E. Church dining room, Tuesday evening, March 29 from 5:30 to 8 o'clock, to which they most cordially invite the public. Everybody come and enjoy this novelty the ladies are offering.

A menu of a variety to suit all tastes and at prices to suit all pocket books. Special envoys are studying the methods of the best "serve self" in Detroit in order that nothing may be lacking in the service rendered to those who shall attend this supper.

Interesting minds are far rarer than pretty faces, probably because they're less in demand.
