Robert Might Be Said to Have "Seen Point"

Uncle Henry had had a hard day of it fixing up his bungalow at Tall Timbers. Everything seemed to go wrong—he hit his thumb with a hammer, tripped over a rug and strained his back moving the stove.

Robert, quick as a wink, replied: "Yes, if the point was sticking down."

This last straw broke the camel's back.—Exchange.

SIX IN STATE AWARDED VAIL MEDAL FOR 1926

TWO WOMEN AMONG TELEPHONE WORKERS RECEIVING RECOGNITION FOR SERVICE

OUTSTANDING ACTS NOTED

Hadley Manager and Operator Help Capture Armed Robbers—Three Others Commended

Six Michigan telephone people have been awarded the Theodore N. Vail medal for 1926, for outstanding acts of noteworthy public service performed in the line of duty, according to announcement by Burch Foraker, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

In the seven years since the establishment of the Vail Memorial Fund, 33 Michigan Bell telephone people have been awarded the Vail medal of bronze and one has received the national award of a silver medal.

Those awarded the Vail medal for 1926 are: Benjamin Hadley, manager, and Edna Ann Hadley, operator, Hadley Telephone Company, Hadley, Mich.; Rudolph A. Hansen, line foreman, Saginaw; Harold J. Hausbeck, line man, Saginaw; William T. Frumveller, district foreman, Port Huron; Miss Reeta Howe, night operator, Grand Rapids.

One of the boldest bank robberies in the history of Michigan was perpetrated January 13, last year, at Hadley, near Lapeer. A bandit gang, said to have driven from Toledo, raided the Citizens bank, seized more than $3,000, engaged a posse of officers and citizens in a running gun fight and was captured, all within the space of a short half hour.

That the thugs were captured was largely due to the courage, resourcefulness and prompt action of the manager and operator of the Hadley telephone exchange, Benjamin F. Hadley and his wife, Edna Ann Hadley.

When the carload of armed thugs tore into the village, Mr. Hadley, who was outside the telephone office, was attracted because of the foreign license plates on the machine. When the car parked, motor running, a block from the bank, three of its occupants going into the bank, he became more interested. Then, noticing that the curtains of the bank were pulled down, he rushed to the telephone office and called the deputy sheriff, telephoned a hardware dealer and ordered arms and ammunition to be made ready, and then endeavored to reach the sheriffs of Lapeer, Genesee and Oakland counties. The bandits had cut the long distance wires, so Hadley called out over a farm line and had a switch made at a farmer's home to route his call through another small town, thus reaching the officers.

Then, armed with a rifle and shotgun, Hadley helped organize the posse that attacked and captured the bandits. As the thugs fled from the bank, they were faced by a growing crowd of men with businesslike looking guns who were springing toward them in every direction. Firing upon the closing posse and holding it in check momentarily, the trio backed toward the car, but was cut off. Eluding the armed townsmen, they scattered themselves in a small shed. There they were spied by Mrs. Hadley from the telephone office. She, brave woman, notified the posse, and continued to arouse the countryside by calling the citizens of the town.

The bandits, finally routed from their hiding place, shot their way out of town, but were shot down and captured before going far. Two bandits and two members of the posse were wounded.

Rudolph A. Hansen and Harold J. Hausbeck are credited with saving the life of a workman who was gassed while working in a trench in Saginaw, July 2, coming upon a group of workmen and curious passers-by standing about the form of an unconscious man, Hansen and Hausbeck, after summoning a physician, worked in turn for 25 minutes to restore consciousness by means of artificial respiration. The physician declared that they had saved the life of the workman. They had put to practical purpose principles they had learned in the first aid classes conducted for the plant employees of the Michigan Bell company.

While supervising the work of a tree trimming crew near Washington, Mich., September, William T. Frumveller was directed by the cries of a woman to the body of a boy hit up in a tree. Frumveller climbed into the tree and found that the lad had come into contact with a power line which carried a 4,500 volt trolley. When man secured rubber gloves from the crew's truck, attached a rope about the boy's body, broke the contact with the power wire, and lowered the child toward the ground. Recalling his first aid teaching, Frumveller decided that a counter shock would assist the restoration of consciousness and let the body drop when it was about three feet above the grass. Slight returning consciousness were dis-
