

An Invitation to Farmington Business Women

It is a course of gratification to us to notice the increasing number of business women, school teachers, clerks and stenographers, who are using the service of this bank.

We welcome their patronage, and extend a hearty invitation to all who are not affiliated with us, to open checking or saving accounts, or consult us on any personal, business or household financial problem.

This bank is here to serve the business women of Farmington as well as our business men of large affairs.
