There IS a Difference

Two suites of overstuffed furniture may look equally well on the show room floor—they may "sit" equally well. It's how they are going to look and how much of their soft comfort they will retain a year from now—ten years from now—that interests the careful buyer.

Into Globecraft overstuffed furniture only the finest of hardwood goes, the best springs, webbing that lasts, stuffing that stays soft and springy. Each piece from design to covering is made to the order of the customer.

Drive out some day soon and let us show you how fine furniture is made. You'll find us just 2 blocks north of the end of Seven Mile Road.

WALLED LAKE
 Mrs. Christina Howe
 Mrs. Christina Howed died at her home here Sunday at the age of 79 years. She suffered a stroke last Wednesday morning and pneumonia set in. She leaves six children; Mrs. Mary Bangard of South Lyon, Mrs. Minnie Nook of Commerce, Mrs. Emma Bentley and Mrs. Ella Riley of Pontiac, Henry and Frank Moss of Wallied Lake. She was married twice, first to a Mr. Moss and then to a Mr. Howe, both husbands being dead. She will be taken to New Haven and buried beside her husband. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., Rev. Hoffman of the Baptist church officiating.

Revival meetings are being held in the M. E. church this week. Invitations are out for the Senior Prom, April 29, at 8:30 p. m. Mary Moore second grade teacher and Helen Scott fourth grade teacher were absent Monday on account of illness. Mildred Geigler is out of school being sick. Herbert Roach has been in bed with the mumps but is able to be up.

The mothers and daughters banquet will be held May 6, sponsored by the True Blue S. S. class. Jay Tuttle who lived on the Pontiac road, was buried last week. He leaves an aged widow and two children, Mrs. Charles Green and Frank Tuttle both of this place. The junior play "Rival Ghosts" drew a large crowd Friday night. The P. T. A. held a very interesting meeting Thursday night. Miss McDonald of Pontiac gave her experience over seas with the Salvation Army. Miss Brekke of Lansing gave a talk after a spell down was held. Miss Jean Heaton the third grade teacher stood up the longest.

Mussolini is not going to allow women to teach philosophy. How can he help it? For centuries all the really hard-boiled philosophy has been learned at their feet. Maybe this would be a much more quiet world if a greater portion of the population would heed the request, "Aw, shut up!" The man who leads a double life reaches the end twice as fast. Kissing has been found to be a dangerous custom. Never be it said of our young generation that they are errant cowards.

Siamese King Spends Much Money for Light
 In one of the sunniest of climes where dense smoke from factories is unknown the king of Siam has been a world's champion consumer of electricity for illumination. The bill for electric light in the palace and other royal residential quarters in Bangkok has been running close to $500 a day, according to a report submitted by the Siamese budget committee. When the committee developed this fact King Rama is said to have declared there is henceforth going to be exhibited more economy of electricity on the part of his family and retinue. Electric light, however, has become an essential in Bangkok.

Caring for Auto Victims
 That first-aid dressing stations or booths be established on highways to care for victims of auto accidents, was the recommendation of a coroner's jury in Selby, England, at the inquest of a motor crash victim recently. It further urged that a list of the nearest doctors be posted in every dressing room, and suggested that the plan be brought to the attention of the minister of transport of the British government.

Seek Undersea Sounds
 Experiments are being made by the British Broadcasting company in the hope of perfecting a method of recording undersea sounds. The B. B. C. hopes shortly to broadcast the underwater sounds by which the navy identifies ships at a distance. If the experiment succeeds, the noises made by all types of vessels, including those of large liners, will be recorded.

Symptoms of Senility
 "It used to be that Tuck Beller's father-in-law, old man Slabby, was malleable lively," said Lefe Lagg of Clepboard Springs. "He could set and spit through a knot hole at tuther side of the room, but Tuck says now that the old cuss misses it about half of the time on account of age, and it is as big as a silver dollar, too, mighty high." —Kansas City Star.

Modern Archer's Triumph
 With a homemade bow and arrow, twelve-year-old Richard McKinney of Auburn, Maine, brought down a partridge. He actually bit the partridge with his arrow, and if the shot didn't kill it, and that nobody knows, Richard's Spitz dog, Buddy, did. For Buddy promptly retrieved the bird, which the arrow stunned at least.
