Gunman killed once, another strike feared

By Greg Kowalski
staff writer

The gunman who shot and killed a Brinks armored car courier during a robbery two weeks ago could strike again, said FBI agents and Franklin-Bingham Farms Village police Chief Edward Glomb.

"I think he'll strike again," Glomb said. The man escaped with a money bag containing about $30,000. "That's not enough to retire on."

The robbery occurred at about 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, when the man "ambushed" Brinks courier Richard Germany, 27, at the Security Bank & Trust at 30400 Telegraph.

FBI special agent David Stapleton said Germany was bringing out seven bags of cash from the bank when he was approached by the gunman who fired two shots from a .38 caliber pistol into his chest without saying anything.

The gunman grabbed a bag containing cash and ran through the back of the building and escaped. Germany staggered out the front door to the truck where he collapsed. He was taken to Providence Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

"THIS WAS A cold-blooded, premeditated ambush," Glomb said. The killer was seen in the building lobby 10 to 15 minutes before the shooting, said FBI agent Hank Glasple.

The Brinks truck routinely came to the bank at that time for pickups and deliveries, Glasple said.

Brinks has offered a $100,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer.

Germany had worked for Brinks for four years.

The killer was described as a black male, 25 to 30 years old, 5-foot-9 to 5-foot-11 inches tall with a slender build. He was wearing a tan raincoat, eyeglasses and a fur hat. He is considered armed and dangerous.

Glomb said "every possible angle" to the case was being investigated, including the possibility of the robbery being an inside job. But there is no evidence to indicate that at this point, Stapleton said.

Stapleton said the FBI is concentrating on trying to identify the killer at this point.
