police/fire calls

Listed below are some of the Farmington area police inci-dents, fire calls and court cases reported during the past week:

UNARMED ROBBERY

An unidentified man fied from a Farmington Hills department store Friday with a 14 karat diamond cluster ring valued at $2,250, according to a Farmington Hills police report.

The manager of the fine jewelry department at Crowley's, 33250 12 Mile, told police that a man was looking at watches and rings when he asked the karats of a particular ring. The employee said the ring was a half-karat.

ring, I no employee sain the ring was a half-karat.

The man then asked to see another ring. The employee removed it from the display case and showed it to the man while still holding it in her hand.

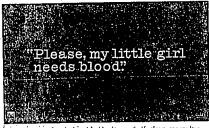

Again the man wanted to know the diamond size. When the employee responded that it was one karat, he grabbed her hand and pried away the ring. The man then ran out a side door into a waiting car occupied by.

The robber was described as a black man, 22-25 years old, 5 feet, nine-0-11 meet all. When last seen cap care University of Michigan cap, tan and green jacket and blue jeans.

OFFICE FIRE
 Thanks to an automatic sprinkler system in one of the Arboretum offices, 34405 12 Mile, fire damage was limited to an estimated $50,000, according to Farmington Hills fire officials.

officials

Fire broke out in a wastebasket in one of the second-floor offices in the office complex just after 8 p.m. The fire apparently spread from the wastebasket to a nearby desk. It's believed the fire was caused by discarded smoking material.

"The building is fully protected by a sprinkler system, which activated and prevented any more damage," said deputy fire Chief Peter Baldwin. "That's how it's supposed to work."

Fire officials encourage building owners and even homeowners to install sprinkler systems that activate when fire breaks out. The sprinkler system extinguished the fire and when fireflighters arrived they shut it off.

• FELONIOUS ASSAULT
Two 16-year-old West Bloomfield

Township youths told Farmington Hills police that their ear was rammed and damaged by two men in Jeep Renegade on Orehard Lake Road Friday afternoon, according to a Farmington Hills police report. The youths were driving on south bound Orehard Lake Road, just north of 13 Mile, when they passed the Jeep. The driver reportedly gave them a "dirty look," and taligated them.
