New Zealand's quaint cove

chitecture spilling down rolling slopes to the shore.

TAKE A WALK THROUGH

Travelers often miss New Zealand's most urban city

n a nation brimful of scenie wonders, New Zcaland's capital city of Wellington, situated at the situated at the southernmost tip of the North Island, is often bypassed in the tourist stampede from Auckland southernmost tip of the North Island, is often bypassed in the tourist stampede from Auckiand to Queenstown.

Yet New Zealand's first organized European settlement has evolved into the country's most intensely urban city. It is arguably the intellectual and cultural centre of New Zealand. The setting is stunning: a fine, deep harbor set in a natural amphitheater of densely wood ethilis. Clinging tenaciously to the hillsides is a colorful pastiche of timber houses, many dating to colonial times.

A nata of the setting is a colorful pastiche of timber houses, many dating to colonial times.

A hard a cluster of fall and commercial buildings focused around the Civic Center, which forms a new nucleus for the city's cultural amenities.

A large open-air plaza, which forms a new nucleus for the city's cultural amenities.

A large open-air plaza, which forms a new nucleus for the city's cultural amenities.

A large open-air plaza, which forms a new nucleus for the city's cultural amenities.

A large of the cityle control of the city's cultural amenities.

A large of the cityle control of the city's cultural amenities.

A large of the cityle control of the city's cultural amenities.

A large of the cityle control of the city's cultural amenities.

A large of the cityle control of the city's cultural amenities.

A large of the cityle control of the city's cultural amenities.

Enclosing this space is an ensemble of new, older and refurbished buildings, lower buildings is the three-story Wellington Public Library, which oppend in December, presenting an undensity facts which ecolonade of giant steel "nikus pulms."

Beneath the plaza is Control and of giant steel "nikus pulms."

Beneath the plaza is Capital Discovery Place, a hands-on children's museum scheduled to open in September. Refurbished buildings included the Town Hall, of Edwardian classicist design, and the Early Modern civic the Early Modern civic administration building. The former city library, an imposing striped classical ediffice, is being remodeled as the new City Art Gallery and will open in early 1993. Beyond the central city, to the south and east, are a series of rocky bays and sandy inless connected by narrow and winding roads.

connected by narrow and winning roads.
Despite its dramatic topography, Wellington is easily negatiated on foot. From the north it takes just two hours to stroll-from the pioneer cutages of the Thorndon neighborhood, past the Parliament buildings, along the bustling storefronts of Lambton Quay and south to the Mediterranean-style promenade of Oriental Parade.
For energetic visitors there are several signposted walkways into the city's hills. These trails combine panoramic views and discrete glimpses into private gardens.

gardens.

A word of caution: The price
Weilington pays for its peninsula location and lush green vegetation is a brisk sea breeze and changeable weather.

WHAT TO DO
Historic Wellington has a 150-year heritage of European settlement.

year heritage of European settlement.

The Wellington Information Center, on the corner of Wakefield and Victoria streets, P.O. Box 2199, offers the "Thorndon Walk" (80 cents) and "Historic Wellington" ($1.35) brochures, which outline sightseeing tours. For more information call 801-4000.

4000.
One spot is the Katherine Mansfield Birthplace, at 25
Tinakorl Road, where New Zealand's most glited writer was born in 1888. It is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; closed Monday.

buildings, was the result of a design sketched on a nap and inspired by the motif on a box of "Beehive" matches.

Admission is $2.15. For more information call 473-7268. Farther up Tinakora Road, onto Glenbervie Terrace and Ascot Street, are tiny 1870s cottages. Among other old places of inferest are the Parliament buildings lining Molesworth Street, which include the old Parliament House, built in 1912 and considered a fine example of Edwardian Classicism, and the and considered a fine example of Edwardian Classicism, and the modern executive wing of Parliament, known as the Bechive for its conical shape.

St. Paul's Cathedral, a block away on Mulgrave Street, is a splendid example of 19th-century timber Gothic architecture. In the newly completed National Archives building, at 10 Mulgrave Street, you can wist the Constitution room to view the original Treaty of Waltangt, the most important document in New Zoalands and 1840 by representatives of the British government and many of the country's Maori tribal groups. The National Archives Building is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Afthe Street, as a sembled for a recent Australian four. It is open daily from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Admission is free. For more information call 499-5395. At the National Museum and Art Gallery, at Buckle Street, is Taonga Maori, a display of rare Maori cultural artifacts assembled for a recent Australian four. It is open daily from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Admission is free. For more information call 499-5395.

From Cable Car Lane off Lambton Quay you can take the set of the set of call 385-9699.

From Cable Car Lane off
Lambton Quay you can take the Kelburn cable car to the top of the Wellington Botanic Gardens (free admission) to admire the view, then walk down through the verdant bush. At the Lady Norwood Rose Garden 100-plus types of roses, arranged in formal geometric design, are in full bloom throughout the summer months.

The Kelburn cable car, which The Relburn capie car, which costs 80 cents, operates from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday to Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. For more information call 472-2199.

information call 472-1199.

For a view of the city skyline from the opposite side of the bay visitors can take the Wellington Harbor Ferry across to Day's Bay, a popular picnic spot. Departure from Queen's Wharf is $12 for a round-trip ticket. Visitors stroll around the beach to Eastbourne and browse in the shops and sailories.

galleries.

Returning to Queens' Wharf, one can follow the waterfront to Oriental Parade, which sweeps around the shellered southeast arm of the harbor in a broad scrpentine, lined with Norfolk pines. Until late evening the promenade attracts a steady stream of joggers, swimmers, windsurfers, cyclatts, fishermen and dog lovers.

Retirees enjoy going through Oregon's only rustic gristmill

By Gene and Adele Malott special writer

Peter Crandall, 70, and his wife Cora bought Oregon's only gristmill — the Butte Creek Mill — in 1972. It took Crandall just two days to close the deal.

took Crandail Just two days to close the deal.

He had been a mechanical engineer in southern California when he visited Oregon, heard the mill was for sale and decided to buy it and retire.

Now he says, "I have never regretted doing it. I'm where I want to be, doing what I want to do."

Crandail's Butte Creek Mill — in Eagle Point, Ore, just north of Mediond, Ore, on U.S. Highway 52 — is a favorite stop for mature travelers on the road to Oregon's spectacular Crater Lake area.

Inside the weathered four-story

Crater Lake area.

Inside the weathered four-story water-powered mill, a miller uses the same 1,400-pound stones that were brought to Eagle Point more than 100 years ago to grind wheat, rye and corn into flours, meals and careals.

cereals.
Today the structure, which first opened in 1872, is on the National Register of Historic Places.
The Crandalls also run the General Store Museum, which is part of the mill complex. They have filled their interest during the past 50 years; patent-medicine bottles, old advertisements, a turn-of-the-century phonograph, an antique coffee grinder and pubellied stow.
The Crandalls are typical of southern Oregon's new wave of retirees

The Crandalls are typical of south-ren Oregon's new wave of retirees who come to vacation and decide to stay.

Most who visit this area will make their way north and east on U.S. Highway 82, perhaps stopping at Natural Bridge Viewpoint about 50 miles past, Eagle Point for a stroil across the Rogue River before con-tinuing to Crater Lake.

Medford is central to the area — a good place to camp for day-trips into the rest of the region.

with sunshine and handcrafted gifts made by the owner, Rita Turner, who loves to chat with the artists, fishermen and retired people who who loves to chat with the artists, ishermen and retired people who stop in.

Another Oregon retiree is Jack Heald, who collects and displays antique tractors at the Fordson Home Hostel, an American Youth Hostel he runs near Cave Junction, Ore.

Heald acts as an unofficial guide for mature travelers in the quiet valley just west of Medford.

"It's the best-kept fourism secret in America," Heald tells visitors, referring to Oregon's fishing, hading, the days and six months of 190-6, hading, the days and six months of 190-6, hading, which was also been also be the property of the waste of the waste of the property of

Peter Crandall, 70, owns Oregon's only gristmill, a popular stop for mature travelers checking out checking out possible relirement

I have never regretted doing it. I'm where I want to be, doing what I want to do.'

- Peter Crandall

The Star Princess 14 Days

Venice to Athens BLACK SEA August 4

Only by Sea, Inc. 645-9900

Diabetes is a major contributor to heart disease, kidney disease and blindness. So when you support the American Diabetes Association, you fight some of the worst diseases of our time.

Do you know this man?

He's William Shakespeare. The Poet. The Wordsmith. The 'Bard'. Even after 375 years, he's still the greatest English language playwright of all time. E If you know Shakespeare, we've said enough. Simply come to Stratford, Ontario, Canada, and re-live the magic of the Master's grand stage. If you don't know him, this is your chance to have a great getaway, and experience, first hand, the living words of the legend. Come celebrate the 40th season of the Stratford Festival, May 5th to November 15th, featuring dazzling performances of Romeo and Juliet, The Tempest, Love's Labour's Lost, Measure for Measure, plus eight other productions ranging from Gilbert & Sullivan's HMS Pinafore, to the hit comedy Shirley Valentine, 👻 With three stages in a parkland setting on the Avon River, the Stratford Shakespearean Festival is home to the largest classical repertory company on the continent. The Victorian charm of Stratford and your 'Festival getaway' offers line dining, unique and fascinating shops and a wide array of accommodations with character. All in all, a trip to remember. To get to know Shakespeare better call the Stratford Festival Box Office direct from Detroit at (313) 964-4668 or call 1-800-567-1600. For tourist information and a free Festive Stratford Visitors' Guide, call 1-800-561-7926.

STRATIOND *Rochester

40 Seasons STRATFORD FESTIVAL

Your best ticket to Shakespeare ARTISTIC DIRECTION DAVID WILLIAM . STRATFORD, ONTARIO, CANADA

PROMOTIONAL SUPPORT PROVIDED BY

Hometown Observer & Eccentric