didn't want to do anything realistic because people sit all the way around these tables."

The tabletop watercolors are Dilworth's first effort as a painter. Her design skills were honed four years ago as a flower arranger for a Sterling Heights shop.

AND, YES, people have already asked to buy some of the tabletop paintings. Although there are no plans to sell any at present, Dilworth would like to create smaller, laminated versions for use as placemats at the bar.

But perhaps local artists will bring in their own tabletop works for the Ocean Grille's next redo.

An idea seen in a restaurant in another state came to Dilworth's rescue. Here, the owners had put prints under the glass tabletops.

"I wondered if I could do some watercolors," Dilworth said. "I

Community House at 844-5832 for festival information and reservations.

Presale tickets, available at The Community House until Friday, April 3, are $4. Tickets will cost $5 at the door during the festival.

Benefactors, at $50 per person, will be invited to the preview party 6-9 p.m. Thursday, April 9. Sponsors, $30 per person, will be invited 7-9 p.m. Frank and Cathie Pollock and Bob and Nancy Sellers are chairmen for the preview.

AT THE preview luncheon Tuesday, April 7, a hospitality hour will begin at 11:30 a.m. with models posing in mannequins to display reproductions of American first ladies' inaugural ball gowns, on loan from Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Deer of Birmingham. This will be the last public showing of the collection before it is donated to the University of Michigan.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. April 7, and the talk will begin at 1:30 p.m. The price is $30 per person.

With the help of Al Taubman and his Taubman Co., the Solihely's speaker was secured and the luncheon cost was underwritten, so all of the luncheon proceeds will go to The Community House, Taylor said.

Clover E. Downs, Jacobson's and Republic Bank are underwriting the preview evening. Michigan Design Center, Estate Motors, Mercedes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mardigan and Vlasto Foods are also helping with the evening.

The festival will be open to the public 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. April 10 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. April 11.

Thomas and Marilyn Variedon of Bloomfield Hills, last year's chairmen, are honorary chairmen for the event this year.

Spring photography workshops start April 4

Professional photographer and lecturer Joseph P. Messina of St. Clair Shores will start the 21st year of his Messana Photo Workshops this spring.

Messana conducts the on-location workshops, sponsored by the Henry Ford Centennial Library in Dearborn. The spring term will run April 4 to June 20.

The opening session, featuring a slide presentation and registration, will take place 2 p.m. Saturday, April 4, in Room 111A of the library, 16301 Michigan Avenue.

CLASSES ARE geared to people who know how to use their 35mm equipment. The color slide course stresses composition and how to see a picture. Students meet each week on Saturday for a two-hour location session that includes a lecture.

Fees are $150 (full-time student), $90 for three classes, $35 for less than two sessions, $25 for critique. No refunds allowed after April 11.

Classes are limited to 20 students weekly. To reserve space, send a check to Messana Photo Workshops, 22500 Rte Vista, St. Clair Shores 48081, or call 773-5815 during business hours. Film and processing materials will be available.

A fall color weekend trip is in the planning stages for October.
