HOPELESSLY DEVOTED: The Women's Division for Project HOPE got back on track after its recent memorable train adventure/dinner on Union Lake's Michigan Star Clipper. Humor has it that the sudden boxcar derailment during the cocktail party made the fund-raiser even more exciting for the HOPEful supporters.

Last week's annual "In-Your-Ear Bonnet" luncheon and fashion show was no chug-a-lug either. The women boarded the once-upon-a-time-men-only Detroit Athletic Club, donning their favorite spring chapeaus. Prizes were awarded to Gloria Longvelli for the most exotic and Holly Moncher for most traditional bonnet. While Betty Bright's creation was a musical spring hat filled with Easter grass, daffodils and colorful eggs, which received the most humorous award, Marge Slezak's fabulous, feathered fedora was voted most glamorous.

The runway fashion splash put on by Barbara Masur and Barbara Carey of Twelve Oaks Mall included russet Indian madras plaid, tropical turquoise prints, pearl-studded off-the-shoulder jumpsuits, country safari looks, spring florals, classic linen suits and fantasy and glamorous sequin slip dresses (a little something for everyone, denoted also by the every-age, every-size models).

Committee members working on the Project HOPE luncheon to benefit the Polish-American Children's Hospital in Krakow, Poland, were Alene Bielawski, Jane Barker, Rosalind DeWayle, Nancy Jagoe, Carol Horvath, Marge Koch, Joyce Ludwig, Lori Starke, Sally Bonteecki, Jessie Amelon, Colleen Becker, Anne Bielawski, Susan Gopkins, Denise Hauser and Deanna Norris. The committee was chaired by Sybil Jacques.

Also spotted at the fund-raiser were Frances Spina, Julia Spina-Kilar, Patricia Hill-Barnett, Glsay Clement and Joan Wells.

MADONNA'S "AROUND THE WORLD": West Bloomfield's Denise and Vicky Kapp once again served as general chairwomen of the annual Madonna University "Around the World" Scholarship Auction. It was the third year the dynamic duo chaired this auction, where items such as a 1992 Don Massey Cadillac Sedan de Ville were donated. Holding the winning raffle ticket was Madonna alumni Joan Nardi, who drove the classy chassis home.

More than $200,000 was raised with the help of corporate sponsors Northwest Airlines (donating a first-class trip for two to Sydney, Australia), Marriott Management Services, Northwest Blue Print and Don Massey Cadillac.

Philanthropist, Farmington jeweler Chuck Duquet once again donated a beautiful Bernd Meustener pendant, with high bidder Robert Awrey of Farmington Hills romancing the stone for his wife and committee member Betty Jean.

Honorary chairs were Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara, Detroit Free Press publisher Neal Shinn and WJBK-TV editorial director Joe Weaver.

Deanna and Vicky Kapp will host an annual birthday bash for Kate Patterson, songbird at the Whitney in Detroit. The party scheduled for Sunday, May 17, at the Kapps' West Bloomfield home, is an evening of food, entertainment and fun. Minimum donation is $30 which goes to Patterson's favorite charity, the Coalition on Temporary Shelter, a support service for the homeless. Call 683-9608 for further information about the COTS benefit.

The Kapps also announced their chairmanship commitment for next year's Madonna Auction slated for April 17, 1993.

HAIRS TO THE DIA: It will be the first time the Detroit Institute of Arts has opened its doors for a formal hair show. Southfield resident Bernard Franz, president of American of Detroit Hair Guild, came up with the brainchild of "Hair in Art and the Art of Hair Styling," to be held Monday, May 4.

Local members of American of hair styles depicted in paintings throughout the museum, as well as a hair fashion forecast for '92, and headresses by special guest artist Carsten Wilms.

Working with Franz is West Bloomfield Nick Slagkris of Rumours hairdressers in West Bloomfield. Kathleen Bransch of Phase One salon in Birmingham and Ed Danber of Don Edwards salon in Farmington Hills. For ticket information for a full-day package or press show, call 798-9220.

BLACK, TIE AND TENNIS SHOW: The Ultimate Sports Bar in downtown Pontiac is the place to be 5-10 p.m. Sunday when Variety - the Children's Charity will host "A Celebrity Toast Gala" honoring Danny Haskin, Jack Buell, Lomas Brown, Denny McClain and Ken Calvert.

The evening with master of ceremonies Henry Baskin will provide lion vjands by Excelsior of Southfield and music by Johnny Trudell and his Orchestra. A celebrity photography exhibit of Linda Solomon
