

Cranbrook seeks docent aides

The Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum is accepting applications for its docent program.

Docents are volunteers who provide guided tours of the museum's collections and special exhibitions for school age and adult groups.

An open house will take place for prospective applicants at 10 a.m. Monday, June 22, at the museum. Call David Rau, associate curator, at 645-3314 for more information, and an application.

Docents must complete a semester-long training program that includes tour techniques and the history of the museum's collection and the Cranbrook Education Community.

Men and women interested in Cranbrook and contemporary art who are available for training on Mondays and touring on at least one other weekday during the school year are encouraged to consider this challenging and rewarding service to the community.

The docent program will begin in September 1992. Experience with public speaking and teaching is an important qualification for the docent program. But enthusiasm and a sincere willingness to learn supersede all other qualifications.

The Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum is open to the public for general viewing 1-5 p.m. Wednesdays-Sunday, with extended hours noon to 9:30 p.m. the first Thursday of the month. For more information, call 645-3323.

Museum activities are supported in part by the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs.

Max painted two murals, with a total 10,000 square feet, for the U.S. pavilion at Expo '92 in Spain called "Discovery." The work was shown in a 25-year retrospective at the Hermitage Museum last May.

"I'm glad to be able to do this for my country."

Popular in Russia

Max, whose work is featured in 140 museums around the world, found special success in Russia. In 1999, he designed the largest rock and roll stage for the Moscow Music and Peace Festival. His work was shown in a 25-year retrospective at the Hermitage Museum last May. At the opening of the retrospective, 14,000 people attended, making it the largest opening day turnout for an artist in Russian history.

"It was an explosion. The lines went around 10 blocks," said Max, who expected "a couple hundred people."

Some of those in attendance flashed Max the peace sign.

"They were very attracted to that period. I was delighted."

The trip to Moscow inspired Max's work, "Forty Gurbys."

GALLERY HOURS ARE 10 A.M. TO 6 P.M. MONDAY-SATURDAY, NOON, TO 5 P.M. SUNDAY. CALL 626-5910.
