

Entries sought for poster contest

Michigan artists may submit entries for the poster competition of the 1992 Art and Flowers Festival, sponsored by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts.

The design should convey the basic theme of art and flowers and lend itself well to a poster design.

Competition is open to all artists who live, work or study in Michigan. Deadline for entries is Sept. 16. Entries should be submitted in the form of slides and must be accompanied by an official entry form.

The winning work will be reproduced as a poster commemorating the festival, set for April 21-25, at the DIA. The winning artist will receive a $1,000 award, presented by AAA Michigan.

The winner and 20 finalists will be selected in an exhibition that will travel throughout metro Detroit from January through mid-March, when the exhibition will return to the DIA for display through April 25.

To request an entry form, which details contest rules, write the DIA Development Department, 6200 Woodward, Detroit 48202, or call 313-833-7969.

Troy design center hosts career day

More than 300 students from interior design programs throughout Michigan, Ohio and Canada attended the Michigan Design Center's Student Career Day, "Strategies for Your Future."

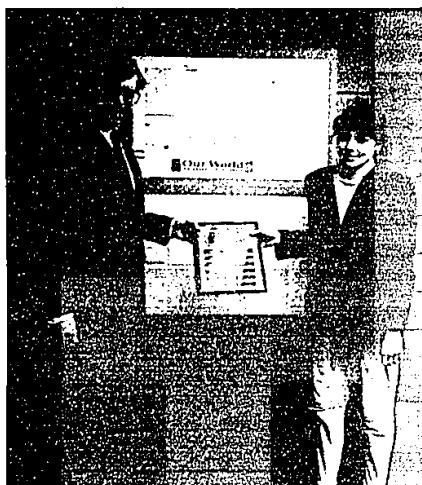

The annual event, co-sponsored by the Michigan Chapter, American Society of Interior Designers, provides students with practical, professional advice on the business of interior design and career opportunities.

James Danto, MDC president, presented Michelle Flynn of Lawrence Technological University the MDC $1,500 first place award in the ASID Senior Design Competition.

Additional ASID recognition awards were presented to William Koehnlein, Kendall Scholl of Design, second place; and Francosca Robinson, Michigan State University, third place.

Seniors entering the competition submit design projects to exacting specifications, and judging is done by ASID officials.

MDC, in Troy, is a resource marketplace for the interior design profession. Open to the trade only, consumers are welcome in the company of their interior designer, architect or builder. MDC offers a complimentary Designer and Architect Referral Service. Call 649-4772.

Van Gogh descendant sets lecture

The Oakland County Cultural Council's Brown Bag Lunch Series will feature "Van Gogh, Part II" a presentation by B.J. Blackford, a descendant of the artist, noon to 1 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 17.

Blackford will present the continuing saga of Van Gogh's life, myths, paintings and suicide. She will share her extensive knowledge and slides from her numerous travels to Holland, where she researched the artist as person and painter.

The free series is open to the public. It takes place on the third Thursday of each month in the conference room on the third floor of the Executive Office Building, 1200 N. Telegraph in Pontiac. For more information, call 858-0415 during business hours (between 8:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.).

Upcoming events in the series are: an explanation by distinguished business consultant Leo Linenmeyer of how to start a home business, including legal requirements and marketing tips (Oct. 15), a slide presentation by a member of the Detroit Institute of Arts speakers bureau on a facet of the museum's permanent collection of the French Impressionists (Nov. 19), and "Loving Gifts from the Oven," a demonstration by Sylvia Treisman of creative ways to make special gifts, such as home-produced food in attractive packaging for the holidays (Dec. 10).
