Vogue Style '92 attracted an eager crowd of 400 guests to Jacobson's Birmingham apparel store

Wednesday. To accommodate everybody at the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation fund-raiser, organizers wisely staged a second showing of the runway fashion show.

Vogue merchandising manager Beverly Purcell introduced the show, which was produced by Jake's from the store's collections. It featured fashion trends pinpointed by Vogue — radical chic, black, red, menswear, animal prints, vintage Hollywood, jeans, hardware elements. Audience favorites included the plaid and menswear separates and the smashing black eveningwear.

In addition to the slick show, the $25 ticket also included libations, merrilies and desserts donated by Merchant of Vino, Manuel's, Ristorante di Modesto, Bates Street Cafe, Ocean Grille, the Midtown Cafe, the Coffee Exchange, Gayle's Chocolates, Bonnie's Patisserie and Weight Watchers.

Annette Kolon, Karen Lutz, Helen Wachler, Pam Rock (Jake's promotion manager) and Margo Sayler (JDF events coordinator) comprised the committee that pulled together the little gem of an evening. In light of the success of the first-time event, Lorraine Schultz, acting as JDF president in the absence of Hal Bay, had good reason to exude gratitude.

parel for the whole family staged by John Casablanca's Elite Group, danced to music by Orange Lake Drive and snatched up all the silent auction items. Localities making it happen included Joy Morris, Mary Lowell, Helen Jones and Monarch Party Planners.

Short 'n' sweet

● Sheila Garber and Pam Rock are co-chairing the Fashion Group Foundation Lunch with designer George Simonson Sept. 10 at the Townsend Hotel in Birmingham. Call Garber (681-1014) for reservations ($35).

● Mary Hoppel will host Women of Bloomfield's new member coffee Wednesday at her Bloomfield home. Anyone interested in joining this social/service group may call Lois Vernick (642-4822) or Jeanne Kummeler (626-8961) for information.

● Jules R. Schubert Jewellers will celebrate its 75th anniversary Thursday, Sept. 10, by hosting a champagne reception to benefit the Tennis & Crumpets commitment to Children's Hospital. The newest Cartier Jewelled Watch Collection will be featured. T&C's Sheila Ryan (649-0440) is taking reservations ($50).

● Joyce Hurst is chairing Families Are Golden on Monday, Sept. 14, at the Westin Hotel in Detroit. The event, a fund-raiser for Spaulding for (special needs adoptive) Children, will be hosted by Chuck Daly. It will salute Michigan Olympians and their families and feature a celebrity fashion show. Phil and Edna Minklin will host a Patron Party on Thursday, Sept. 10, at their Bloomfield home. Reservations ($100, $200 for patrons) are available at Spaulding (443-7080).

McCarthy is honorary chairwoman of the benefit for the Arthritis Foundation. Each golfing foursome will be joined by a celebrity such as Jim Price, Jim Northrup, Mickey Stanley, Sonny Grandelius and Bud Lynch. Call Kelly Conway at the AF office (350-3030) to see if any last-minute slots are available.

● Barb Finn is chairing her annual women's Charity Golf Outing on Tuesday, Sept. 8, at Bogie Lake Golf Club in Union Lake. This year it will benefit Marillac Hall, which supports unwed mothers. Kathy Frasco, By Barrett, Justine McKnight, Genie and Patty Forast and Rita Jungwirth are some committee members. They are offering breakfast, lunch, golf ($60) or bridge ($25). Call Finn (851-3639) for reservations.

● Fran Field and Nancy Levarsky are chairing the Women of Mercy's Fun and Fitness Day benefit Monday, Sept. 14, at Forest Lake Country Club. Golf, tennis, a fitness walk, bridge and a luncheon are included in the eighth version of the popular event. Proceeds this year are earmarked for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's mother-baby managed care program. Call St. Joe's (858-3161) for reservation information.

3 generations: One of the auction items at last spring's Opera Ball was a party at the Roostertail. Mira Linder Victor purchased the donation and recently used the occasion to celebrate her granddaughter's engagement. Greeting guests are Linder (left), her daughter Lily Alexander and granddaughters Maggie, the bride-to-be, and Kate Alexander. The Alexanders came from Toronto for the celebration.
