

North overcomes Churchill cagers

North Farmington overcame Livonia Churchill's slow-down tactics with a full-court press Thursday and won 46-26 in girls basketball.

"We picked up the pace in the second half, but we didn't have the horses to start with them," Churchill coach Gary Fulk said. "Their press hurt us and they got some easy points off it."

Danielle Laborde scored 14 points, Allisha Gordon 11 and Carey Perkins seven for the Raiders, who held quarter leads of 3-0, 23-14 and 37-28.

Emily O'Reilly had nine points to lead the Chargers, who played without star Chrissy Daly, who suffered a broken nose in the previous game. North is 1-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 3-3 overall. Churchill is 0-2 and 4-5 overall.

■ WLV 53, FARM 45: Senior forward Tammy Allen scored 23 points, pulled down 12 rebounds, had four steals and made three assists Thursday in a losing cause for the Falcons.

Andrea Salter added eight points and 10 rebounds for Farmington, which slipped to 0-2 in the WLAA and 2-5 overall.

The Falcons were down 12 points early in the second quarter but closed to four with three-point field goals by Nicole Bingham and Bridget Fleet.

Farmington trailed 28-20 at half-time and 36-29 after three quarters, but the Falcons were never closer than seven points in the fourth.

Farmington made only nine of 23 free throws, the best Warriors (2-3 and 4-4) eight of 17.

"Free-throw shooting hurt us Tuesday against Clarenceville, and it hurt us again tonight," Farmington coach Brian Swinehart said.

Erin Vicary scored 19 points, Angie Bickel 16 and Nicole Jacques 11 for Western.

■ STEVEN, G4, HARRISON 49: The visiting Spartans made seven three-point shots Thursday, including four by Lori Shingdecker, who led Stevenson with 20 points.

Mo Drabicki, Karen Groulx and Julie Martin scored 11 points apiece for the Spartans, who led the entire game despite having (point guard) Drabicki on the bench in foul trouble. Martin also had 13 rebounds and Drabicki seven assists. "Their shooters shot with a lot of confidence and put on a shooting clinic," Harrison coach Peter Mantlo said.

"Seven three-pointers is a lot at any level of basketball. They shut some backbreakers. They played more confidently and more aggressively than we did."

Senior center Heather Hopkins scored 16 points to lead the Hawks. Sophomore guards Erin LaCasse and Krista Snow had 14 and 12 points, respectively. Hopkins and Snow also had seven rebounds each.

Harrison is 1-1 in the WLAA and 3-5 overall, the Spartans 2-0 and 6-0.

"I expected us to be one of the best teams in the area, but we still have lots of improving to do," Stevenson coach Wayne Henry said.

S'craft tops Henry Ford

It was expected to be a challenge, and it was. Henry Ford CC latched back from a game deficit to take SC to the limit before bowing Thursday at Henry Ford.

The 16-14, 15-4, 10-15, 15-13, 15-3 Octol victory improved their record to 6-1 overall, 2-0 in the Eastern Conference. The Hawks are 0-2 in the conference.

"I found Henry Ford to be a really strong, athletic team," said SC coach Tom Teeters. "We're still working on our defenses and I don't think we're at our best yet. We've got a ways to go."

The offense looked good, though. Nancy Elbert sparked the Octolers, collecting 18 kills in .326 kill average, 30 assists-to-kills, three aces and 11 digs. Julie Ward's 21 kills (.326) led the attackers; Dani Sheehy had 17 (.297), to go with seven solo blocks and four block assists.

Eric Edwards added eight solo and one block assist. Janine Spruhl had three service aces and nine digs, and Tracie Clendenen finished with three aces and 18 assists-to-kills.

■ MADONNA VOLLEYBALL: Strong all-around matches from Elvina Aparko, Tonia Smith and Dana Finley propelled Madonna University's volleyball team to a 15-13, 10-15, 15-10, 15-10 victory over non-district foe Hillsdale College Thursday in Hillsdale.

Oparka, a senior outside hitter, had 16 kills in .315 kill average, four service aces and eight digs.
