

Library to sponsor Halloween programs

Two Halloween programs for children are scheduled at Bloomfield Township Public Library, including a crafts program and a magic show.

Children 6 years old and more can make a jack-o'-lantern 4-5 p.m. Tuesday. Registration, which is required, can be made by calling the library. The festive pumpkins will not be carved but rather adorned with glitter, markers, yarn and other decorations.

Ming the Magician presents a magic show at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 29. Children are encouraged to wear costumes to the event.

For more information about the programs, call the youth services department at 642-5800. The library is at the corner of Lone Pine and Telegraph roads.

Benefit supports the arts

Two auctions Saturday to benefit the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association get under way at 7 p.m. at the association offices at 1516 S. Cranbrook Road in Birmingham.

A silent auction starts at 7 p.m., followed by a live auction at 8:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

This is the seventh-annual "For The Love of Art" benefit auction. Joseph Dumouchelle of the Dumouchelle Galleries will conduct the auction.

Transplanting a gift

PETER BALDWIN

Trees donated: Brian Dobkowski and Ben Ilmer work with Jeff Green, leader of Boy Scout Troop 389 of Farmington Hills, to transplant spruce trees donated by Winifred Mangner, a longtime city resident. Scout Matt Penniman also helped transplant the trees from Mangner's yard to the fire station on Wheeler Street. Mangner said she received the trees as seedlings from the city during an Arbor Day celebration many years ago.
