Learn to count birds Saturday in Troy

The Oakland Audubon Society Christmas Bird Count (CBC) will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 19.

New participants are welcome regardless of skill level. A bird count workshop is planned for Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Troy Nature Center.

The local count will be one of more than 1,600 similar counts across the Western Hemisphere designed to help survey wintering birds. Bird counts will be taken from Hawaii to Labrador, and from Alaska to Brazil during the period from Dec. 17, 1992, to Jan. 3, 1993.

This year marks the 93rd anniversary of the original CBC, which was taken on Christmas Day 1900 by groups in 25 locations, mostly around major northeastern U.S. cities. Since then, this annual event has grown from its original 25 counts to over 1,600, and the total participants from 27 to well over 42,000.

It will be the 34th anniversary for the Oakland count, and participation for the club is excellent.

For more information on the Oakland Audubon count, contact Nancy Tar at 399-7243.

Blankets sought for homeless

The Red Cross and World Medical Relief want you to help the homeless stay warm this winter.

For a contribution of $4 you can buy a new full-size blanket, or for $5 a crib-size blanket. The blankets will be distributed to more than 63 shelters for the homeless, victims of domestic violence and teenage runaways in the tri-county area.

Another way you can help is to drop off a new blanket at your local Red Cross office.

Send checks to the American Red Cross, Blanket Days Accounting Department, PO Box 33351, Detroit MI 48232-5351. For more information, call 494-2744.
