Mr. Philip H. Power, Publisher
Observer Newspapers, Inc.
36251 Schoolcraft Road
Livonia, Michigan

Dear Phil:

May I offer to you and every member of the Observer Newspapers my sincere congratulations for a job so very well done.

An enormous amount of concern, skill and personal commitment has gone into bringing ONI to its present position, to the point at which you now officially commemorate what has to be one of the finest newspaper plants anywhere in this country.

All areas of our society, perhaps communications especially, will face challenges of the future which few consider today. You obviously have thoroughly weighed those challenges and have moved to service your readers of tomorrow in the best possible way.

May all the tomorrows be exciting, valuable ones for the thousands you speak to in that fast-changing world of the future where communication will be even more vitally important than it is today.

Sincerely,

William G. Milliken
Governor
