

A PAINTING called "Early Spring" by Mrs. Eugene (Johnnie) Crosby of Plymouth has been on exhibit in two recent area art shows. It is now in the 25th annual water color exhibition of the Michigan Water Color Society at the University of Michigan Museum of Art. It was also in the Scarab Club water color show in Detroit. The painting is a collage using real birch bark and water colors. Mrs. Crosby has also had several of her works accepted by the Michigan Artfair.

Trumpet Player Wins Award

Paul Randall of Livonia has been awarded a tuition scholarship to attend the young artists program of the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood, Mass.

This program is run by Boston University for talented young musicians of high school age, chosen from all over the U.S., in conjunction with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The Berkshire Festival offers eight weeks of professional training in orchestra and chamber music beginning June 26.

Paul, who is 15 and a student at Dickinson Junior High School in Livonia, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Randall of Norwich Road.

He is currently principal trumpet with the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra.

In past years, he has played first trumpet in the All-State Intermediate Orchestra at Interlochen, the Schoolcraft College Summer School Orchestra, the Livonia Junior Orchestra and the Livonia Youth Wind Ensemble.

His only teacher has been Irving Sarin of Westland, for 17 years first trumpet with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. Sarin also played with the Israel Philharmonic and other major orchestras under such distinguished conductors as Fritz Reiner and Leonard Bernstein.

Paul also recently traveled to Pittsburgh where he met and played for William Steinberg, the internationally-known conductor of the Boston Symphony and Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestras.

LEIS OF ping-pong balls drape the necks of Al Winters (left) and Andy Mornille, both of Livonia, and the first copy of their new Dixieland song "Ping Pong P.O.E."

Song Celebrates 'Ping Pong Thing'

POE stand for Port of Entry and "Ping Pong P.O.E." is the title of a new Dixieland song, composed by two Livonians, celebrated the "ping-pong diplomacy" between the U.S. and China.

The composers are Al Winters and Andy Mornille, who have also put together a new band, the Six Star International Dixie Jazz Band.

It is being heard at the Livonia Mall, Seven Mile and Middle Belt, Saturday, June 19, at 1 p.m. in Sears Court. WINTERS and Mornille created the song following the recent trip of the U.S. table tennis team to the People's Republic of China.

"We wanted our first song to somehow express all the joy and happiness of Dixieland music," they said. "And the happiest thing that's happened in a long time is the ping pong thing over in China. We hope it's the beginning of a new time of friendship throughout this small planet we live on."

COPIES of their record are now on sale at Grinnell's. The first copy went to President

Richard M. Nixon; the second to Chairman Mao-Tse-tung; and the third to Premier Chou En-Lai.

Arrangements may be made for the band to visit Peking.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., both Winters and Mornille have played New York jazz houses. Winters played trombone with the Benny Goodman Orchestra a few years ago, and Mornille, a clarinetist, has played with such jazz greats as Woody Herman, Lionel Hampton and Gene Krupa.

The Gourmet Adventures of

DICK BENSEK

Are you a member of the lunch-box crowd? Shake hands and compare sandwiches with the Danish members of your club. They know little of peanut butter-and-jelly or tuna-fish and cheese. Here are some favorite Danish combinations: generous slices of roast beef topped with freshly grated horseradish and finely chopped, cooked beets; herring side by side with lines of finely chopped pickle; smoked salmon, a thin slice with lettuce; raw beef, very lean, soaked with a knife and spread on bread with a raw egg nestled in an onion ring. Believe it or not, these sandwiches and others are commonly seen with the workmen and children for their lunches as well as served for parties and dinners.

Lunches-Dinners-Parties--Uncommonly good service and food is what you always get at DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320. We feature a number of Danish Dishes including Danish Meat Balls and Lobster Tails. We have a private room for parties seating 30 guests. Large parking lot, decorated cakes for birthdays and anniversaries and the outstanding music of Pat Flowers playing piano nightly Tues. thru Sat. 8:30 P.M. Closing.

HELPFUL HINT: Keep a cork in your kitchen drawer and store in it stray pins and thumbtacks. Saves hunting for them later.

Speakers To Explain Meditation

An introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation will be held in the Farmington Community Center, 24705 Farmington Rd., Thursday, June 24, at 8 p.m.

The speakers will be Paul Michel and Myron Fields who were both trained by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. The lecture is being sponsored by the International Meditation Society.

Transcendental meditation is a simple and natural technique, involving no concentration or rigorous physical manipulation, for producing deep rest and a profound state of relaxation. The result, according to its proponents, is more energy and clarity of mind and an improved sense of well-being, as well as more ease in living.

In Art Show

Theodore Striewski of Farmington is exhibiting in the 17th annual drawing and small sculpture show at Ball State University, Muncie, Ind. "Pink Drip" is the title of Striewski's piece, a resin sculpture. It is one of 120 drawings and 63 sculptures selected for the show.
