Lyn Friedman was the bearer of good news. There are whispers Lyn will be working with Hillary Clinton and Lillian Gensler on an upcoming charity benefit. (Lyn promised to keep me informed with further details). Could it be an "empty-bowl" project Lyn has been so actively involved in?

The owners of the new Country Jukebox and Barbecue in Waterford, Mark Papazian and fiancée Debbie Mullins, are bursting the bar barometers with their barnstorming business. Like the rest of America, the former Royal Oak Jukebox barons have gotten on the bandwagon and gone country. Mullins, also a Detroit runway beauty, quipped, "Neilman Marcus carries a wonderful selection of Western wear. I told Mark, I refuse to dye my hair blue if he ever decides to go New Wave."

TV aerobic bobby Susan Miller bubbled about the personal training hookings she is currently building.

Tom Taylor did not skip a beat entertaining guests at the keyboard, while guests sunk their teeth into jumbo shrimp, salmon fillets, Oriental chicken territes, crab appetizers and Christmas pastries.

James Cho bragged about his sister Yoon-Sil's Szechuan restaurant Hoy Tin by the river in Detroit.

Dawn Waldron made a smashing exit sporting a glamorous taupe suede cape trimmed in dyed fox. Friends of the Waldrons were still talking about the Dickens-dressed carolers who sang at their Christmas Eve dinner.

Other guests included hockey player Greg Stelmik, Mike and Sherry Plourd, Ron and Susan Kohler, Michael and Susan Siaskind, Larry and Rita Winokur, Sid and Maggie Feldman, Matt's wife Theresa, Robbio Savan, Keith and Lisa Hietanen (also expecting in May), Jason and Jan Horton, Henry and Joan Bernstein and Matt and Theresa Stachurski.

Silver bells, wedding bells

One of Detroit's "most eligible bachelors" will not be on that list for 1993. The chairman and CEO of Ross Roy (the nation's 17th largest ad agency), Glen Fortinberry, and Christa Heather tied the knot with a private matrimonial ceremony Dec. 19 at Kirk in the Hills Presbyterian church in Bloomfield Hills.

The bride looked radiant in a pearl-and-silver rhinestone-embellished white lace gown from the Vera Wang bridal house in New York. The groom wore a dashing double-breasted navy suit.

Christa, a senior executive with Horizon Media (a broadcast media services firm) and resident of Forest Hills, N.Y., met Glen at a luncheon he was hosting at "21" in New York during the Statue of Liberty renovation in 1986. Fortinberry romantically proposed to Christa some time later at that very restaurant.

Even though the reception was small (60 close friends and relatives), the guest list included some very big names: Joe and Kathy Antonini and Leo and Darren Iacocca.

Christa creatively dubbed her 13-year-old son Matthew her "man of honor" while Glen's three sons, Glen Jr., Charles and Richard, also served as witnesses.

Honeymoon plans are hush-hush.

Shultz shindig

Little did Tracy and Doug Ridonour know their "leap-of-faith bungee-jumping video" would be the talk of Arthur and Lorraine Schultz's annual "day-after" (Christmas) party.

Tracy and Doug, who are traveling the world, sent their most recent daredevil adventure from New Zealand on tape.

Other wild escapades at the Schultzes included Dixie Belle's adventurous leopard print dress, Curtis Posuniak and Steven Beam at the piano, and Michigan Opera Theatre Guild members outlining details of the upcoming Jan. 25-26 Mary McFadden fashion show at Saks at the Somerset Collection in Troy.

Singles mingle

With a track record of 15-20 weddings in less than seven years, the Singles Extension Group at Temple Israel in Bloomfield Township is truly a unique success story.

If you are single, Jewish and over 60, have I got a group for you. The group began as a home party in 1988 as an extension of a younger singles group (no longer in existence) and has grown to a membership of more than 360 members.

The SEG held its Pre-New Year's Eve party Dec. 27 at Temple Israel. The group was really "in the mood" as Wally Duda provided the big band sound. With the fancy footwork and swirls and twirls on the dance floor, it was evident the SEG ballroom dance lessons (coordinated by Marilyn Rosner and Jeanette Magner) were paying off.

Besides dance, the swinging singles have Sunday night bowling, his and her Tuesday night poker and Thursday night bridge, Yiddish, and travel and theater night.

Between beats: Mark Papazian and Debbie Mullins take a night off from Country Jukebox and Barbecue to be at the Barbara and Peter Schneiderman holiday gathering.

Mary Adler, Edith Ellis, Ruth Sovorinsky, Libby Zalunco, Margo Paul, Barbara Ginsburg, Doreen Gordon, Lilian Kaufman, Al Soiferin, Phil Bolton, Alex Beerbohm, Clara Cook, Ruth Katz, Shirley Wino and Hy Goldstein.

Doreen Gordon, wearing a wonderful gold-buttoned red suit, found her sweetie, a former ad man, Alex Beerbohm, through SEG.

Auto Show preview night

The Charity Preview night for the North American International Auto Show is one of the largest black tie events held in the United States.

Last year the gala attracted more than 7,000 guests. Ten local charities will benefit from the $125 per person fundraiser Friday that will raise more than $1 million.

The 10 Detroit-area children's charities are Barst Human Services, Boys and Girls Clubs of Southeastern Michigan, the Children's Center, Children's Services of Northeast Guidance Center Assistance League, Detroit Institute for Children, Easter Seal Society, March of Dimes and Detroit Police Athletic League.

For further information call 644-8332.

Youtheatre at Mercy

It's Micky Miner's 29th year with Detroit Youththeatre. Miner and Company has actively enriched the lives of metropolitan Detroit children for three decades with his performing arts programs.

Wrapping up the final performances of "Merry Christmas Amelita Bedelia," the Wiggle Club theater grabbed the attention of more than 22,000 local boys and girls.

THE FAMILY CLUB

At Peachwood Inn and Borden Court our primary concern is for our residents. We believe however, that their families are of utmost importance also. The Family Club is an opportunity for family members to meet in an informal and relaxed atmosphere. There are parties, dinners, guest speakers, and a newsletter. One of the club's special projects is that members visit residents who may have no families or whose families are out of town.

The Family Club is just one of the exceptional extra features at Peachwood Inn and Borden Court. Our Assisted Living, basic and skilled nursing and Special Care Unit for victims of Alzheimer's and other dementias is unexcelled. Isn't this the only type of care and place you want for your mom or dad?
