Sportsmanship Week

The Western Lakes Activities Association has designated the week of Feb. 8-12 as Sportsmanship Week.

Each of the 12 schools that make up the league will be emphasizing the value of good sportsmanship through a variety of activities.

Daily announcements will contain quotations related to sportsmanship; letters will be sent to different groups such as cheerleaders, students, student-athletes, parents and fans.

Announcements will also be read at athletic events, and 1,000 "Be a Sport" buttons will be distributed in each school.

It's the desire of the administration and athletic directors that all parties realize athletics are an extension of the classroom. For everyone to receive their full benefits, all parties must display good sportsmanship at athletic contests.

Falcons add pair of wins

Farmington continued its successful dual-meet swim season Thursday with a pair of victories in a double dual at Walled Lake. The Falcons are 7-1 overall after defeating host Walled Lake 61-32 and Farmington Hills Harrison 59-34.

Farmington's Rich Hammon won the butterfly (1:00.76) and anchored the winning freestyle relay teams, and Jon Reed won a pair of individual events and was part of one relay.

Don Boyer, Reed, Chris Frump and Hammon finished the 200 relay in 1:36.53. Craig Mathie and Steve Scania combined with Frump and Hammon for a 3:38.81 time in the 400.

Reed won the individual medley (2:08.78) and 100 freestyle (52.21). Scania and Boyer also had solo wins in the 200 freestyle (1:55.97) and 50 freestyle (23.5), respectively.

The Falcons finished strong with individual wins late in the meet from Mark Kurzer, 500 freestyle (6:28.28); Scott Brown, backstroke (56.88); and Kevin Yoder, breaststroke (1:05.26).

Harrison swim victory

Senior Peter Metz won the butterfly (1:00.99) and the 500 freestyle (5:37.08) with personal-best times for Harrison.

The Hawks (3-4) got first place in the 100 freestyle from Craig Dixon (53.86) and the backstroke from Roger Stadler (1:05.48).

Harrison won one relay, the 200 freestyle, with Dixon, Mark Springer, Mat Canavasser and Jason Weiss posting a 1:39.48 time.

Not again? Yes, Hawks rally, win

It was certainly an exciting week for Farmington Hills Harrison basketball. The Hawks, who like living on the edge as long as it results in more victories, overcame a combined, 36-point deficit in two games and won both.

The Farmington Hills Harrison basketball team so enjoyed its comeback win over Plymouth Salem last week that it decided to win the same way again Friday.

The Hawks rallied from another huge deficit (although they didn't wait quite as late this time) to defeat host Northville 59-56.

Harrison, which lost a lot of close games in the fourth quarter early in the season, came back from a 16-point deficit Tuesday against unbeaten Salem to win 95-94 when Keye Smith sank an off-balance, three-point shot with three seconds left.

"This is the trademark for Farmington Harrison," coach Mike Teachman said. "We carry a basket behind the bus for the old coach. This isn't good for the aged."

Teachman's halftime lecture Friday had an effect on his players, who fell behind 16-3 in the first quarter and trailed Northville 33-13 at the intermission.

"I told them 'You can take the piece of paper saying how great you were against Salem and use it for the bottom of the bird cage,'" Teachman told his players.

The Hawks promptly outscored Northville 24-5 in the third quarter and were down one (38-37) going into the finale.

Harrison made the first shot of the fourth period to take its first lead and held on with a 22-18 margin over the last eight minutes.

Smith and Don Bryant scored 13 points apiece, Jeremy Teachman 12 and Calvin Pruitt 11.

Ryan Cahill had only three points but played a heckuva defensive game, coach Teachman said. Pruitt also had 17 rebounds.

The Mustangs got 16 points from Rick Biermann and 14 from Mike Mashek.

Harrison is 4-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 4-7 overall, Northville 3-2 and 7-4.

SALEM 64, NORTH 51: Plymouth Salem rebounded from its loss to Harrison and won a key Western Lakes contest Friday at North Farmington.

The Rocks are 4-1 in the WLAA and 10-1 overall, the Raiders 3-2 and 6-5. Mike Slone scored 22 points for Salem, Brandon Slone 14 and James Head 10.

North's John Pennala netted 16 points, and teammates Deug Dolak and Todd Anderson had 10 apiece.

Salem led 22-20 at halftime and 36-30 after three periods. The Rocks secured the victory by sinking 13 of 16 free throws in the last quarter. Salem was 18-of-25 at the line overall, the Raiders 9-of-15.

North plays host to Farmington Hills Harrison on Tuesday, and the Rocks visit Northville before their WLAA showdown Friday at Walled Lake Central.

GLENN 76, FARMINGTON 53: A bigger Westland John Glenn squad man-handled the host Falcons on the backboards and on the scoreboard Friday. Glenn, the beneficiary of many easy baskets because of offensive rebounds, remained undefeated in the WLAA at 5-0 and is 9-1 overall.

Tony Goins scored a game-high 17 points to lead the Rockets, who also got 13 from Aaron Scheffer, 12 from Ken Taylor and 10 apiece from Guy Rucker and Dave Mruk.

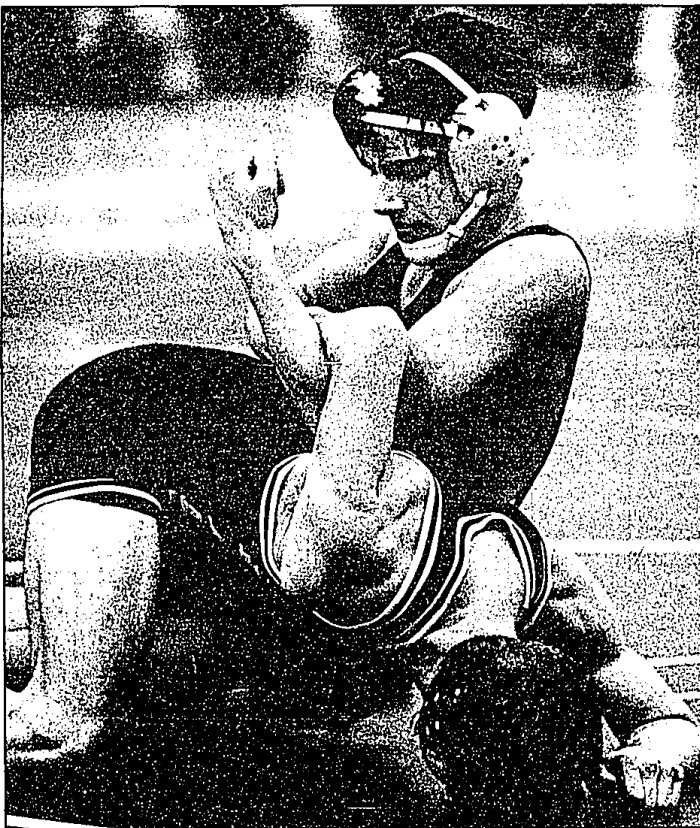

Scott Menser netted 16 points to lead the Falcons, and 2-3 in the WLAA and 5-6 overall.

C'VILLE 67, LUTH. WEST 59: Livonia Clarenceville's win Friday helped the Trojans move up in the Metro Conference standings.

Behind the trio of Mark Kalaj, John Kalaj and Mark Skerjla, the visiting Trojans were able to put themselves into a tie with Detroit Lutheran West at 3-2 in the West Division.

Wrestling duel: North Farmington's Mark McDonald tries to turn Jason Parzuchowski of Farmington with an arm maneuver Thursday. McDonald won and so did the Raiders.

Farmington encouraged by volleyball win

Farmington coach Julie Ingalls hopes the Falcons' volleyball drubbing (9-5-5) of visiting Walled Lake Western on Wednesday will bring back some of the aura of her first days as the team's coach.

"When I first took over the team three years ago, we started with a new attitude," she said. "We keyed on the positives. But we haven't been doing that the past week and a half. We started being positive Wednesday. Hopefully, that attitude will come back."

The Falcons, 8-9 overall and 2-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association, were led by Debbie Schroeder, who was 20-for-23 hitting with 14 kills.

Maggie Frump added four kills on a 13-for-15 hitting performance, and senior Krisay Mahon went 8-for-9 with four kills and was 16-for-18 serving with 29 digs.

FARM HARRISON

The Hawks were on the short end of another draining, five-game match Wednesday against a Western Lakes contender.

Harrison lost to host Walled Lake Central the same way it did Plymouth Salem earlier in the week. The Hawks dropped the first two games (9-15, 17-19), won the next two (15-10, 15-11) and lost the fifth (2-16).

"The loss is disappointing, but we've played some tough teams in the league," Harrison coach Ron Shortt said. "They've beaten us, but we've played them tough. We're still a young team and we've improved so much in the last week."

The Hawks are 3-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association but 3-0 in the Western Division. Harrison is 15-8-3 overall.

Harrison senior Julie Heist had only two hitting errors out of 46 spikes and 17 kills for a .312 percentage. She also served four aces.

Maggie Chavez clipped in 12 kills and was 28-of-31 attacking. Amanda Ault had 26 assists from 70 sets, and Lori Hubble excelled on defense again with 29 digs.

Maureen McQuiston, who filled in for the injured Krista Snow, played a fine match and was a pleasant surprise, according to Shortt. In addition to having 11 digs, she also served and passed well, he said.

"(The Vikings) got on us right away, knocked us back on our heels and we couldn't recover in the last game," Shortt said. "They could just get ahead of the ball and we couldn't."

NORTH FARMINGTON

There weren't many bright spots for the Raiders Wednesday as they fell at Northville, 12-15, 6-15, 12-15.

Sophomore Christen Glovak and junior Many Terrell had seven kills each for North (3-16) while sophomore Ali Lord added six kills. North lost to visiting Walled Lake Central (4-7-9).

"We played well," North coach Sandy Lubienicki said. "The scores don't indicate the good effort of the team. Central is a very talented team."

Senior Stefanie White (12) and junior Keegan Keefover (11) combined for 23 kills.

FARMINGTON MERCY

Farmington Mercy hung around for awhile Thursday against visiting Livonia Ladywood but eventually faded and lost 15-10, 15-5.

"Both teams played well in the first game," Mercy coach Peggy Spengler said. "We stayed in it but they capitalized on our mistakes. We just fell apart in the second half. They put their reserves in and we still couldn't do anything."

Junior middle hitter Christian Grant (five kills) and senior setter Jill Jarosz (three aces) led the Marlins.

Raiders outduel Falcons

North Farmington recorded its first dual-meet wrestling victory Thursday at the expense of cross-town rival Farmington, 38-33.

The Raiders made it an even battle through the middle weights and then, helped by a pair of Farmington forfeits late in the match, were able to pull out a win.

North was down 27-15 when wins by Nick Grant (152), Jared Lawrence (160) and Naveen Nandukmar (171) put the Raiders in front 32-27.

Grant won by injury default over Nate Adams. Lawrence scored a technical fall (16-1) over Dave Stylianou and Nandukmar won by void.

The Falcons regained the lead (33-32) when Scott Holliday pinned John Lessway at 1:30 of the 189-pound bout. But they also were void in the heavyweight bracket, and Mike Poissant's walkover win gave North the victory.

Farmington jumped in front 15-0 after three bouts. Matt Michalski (103) won 15-0 over Ivo Gasparoto, Mike Lane (112) defeated Andy Barnard 11-0 and John Lane (119) pinned Raja Sil in 46 seconds.

The Raiders won the next three to tie. Dave Orow (125) pinned Andre Morge in 34 minutes, Mark McDonald (130) defeated Jason Parzuchowski 6-1 and Mark Heffernan (135) pinned Jason Bachman at 1:39.

The Falcons went back in front 27-15 after Mike Prough (140) pinned Fred Lumaj late in the third period (5:20) and Mark Mason (145) defeated Andy Gertz 9-3.

"Some of our young guys are starting to come around and that's helping us," North coach Tony Silver said, adding the team tri-captains are having excellent years.

McDonald is 17-3 and Orow 15-4. Lawrence, who placed at state last year and is a strong candidate to do so again, missed the last month with mono and is 7-1.
