Two ladies who like to make their students feel at home in the water also have managed to make Garden City loom large in the swimming world. They are Mrs. Jewel Cooke of Farmington and Mrs. Shirley Burlingame of Garden City, both swimming coaches with the Garden City recreation department.

"OUR PROGRAMS are not at all similar," they both tell you. "The training for the two kinds of swimming has to be much different."

But both set high standards for the young people who work for them, and their swimmers respond by giving their best and then some. Both expect to coach champions, and both do.

And both have the deep appreciation of swimmers and parents from an area that includes Westland, Dearborn, Livonia and Plymouth as well as Garden City.

JEWEL COOKE has coached four girls who have gone on to place among the nation's 10 best senior division swimmers. One of them is her youngest daughter, Johanna, now a University of Michigan senior.

They Keep Garden City Right In The Swim

"She's been a great swimmer," her mother says proudly.

Shirley Burlingame has been coaching just five years at Garden City, but for the last two of them her teams have dominated state synchronized swim meets.

Not long ago she took her first team to the national synchronized competition and the girls placed 13th. "I thought that was amazing, considering that their average age is just 15," she said.

MRS. COOKE was a physical education teacher in Chicago before having her family, and taught in the YWCA swimming course in Dearborn before Garden City opened its pool at East High School for public use through the recreation department. "I started with one class," she remembers. "They met at 5 p.m. Saturdays. And they got so good they wanted to go on."

In 12 years of coaching, she's concentrated on girl swimmers because "there are so many other sports for boys," and has graduated such top swimmers as Laura Novak, Lee Davis and Laura Pasternak, besides Johanna. Twice, in 1966 and again in 1970, she has won the Coach of the Year award in Michigan swimming circles. She currently has about 30 students.

MRS. BURLINGAME grew up in Connecticut and excelled in both racing and synchronized swimming. She stopped swimming to attend nursing school, marry and have five children.

Now back in the game, she's brought along five fine swimmers. Ricky, 16; Sharon, 14; Bobby, 13; Douglas, 12 and Donna, nine, all have raced and the girls also are among the best synchronized swimmers for Garden City.

This coach, who works out her own routines and sometimes has 70 of them going at once, also serves as Michigan historian for synchronized swimming "because I'm the only one who keeps detailed records."

Keeping the records, she says, helps keep in view her goal — to get her girls to the nationals.

"For every group I have a goal," she said. "I know what they are capable of doing."

BOTH COACHES agree that while championship swimming takes tremendous dedication it shouldn't be a girl's whole life.

"We insist that they do not give up their social life," Mrs. Cooke said. "Of course their hair gets soaked frequently, but we tell them to find a way to keep it looking nice."

Both also were high in their praises of the Garden City Boosters Club, a group of parents which "stays off our backs" as far as training is concerned and works to raise funds to send swimmers to meets.

Garden City will host a 13-state swimming meet Aug. 11 to 15, and both coaches are working towards it. No one would be surprised to see laurels added then to the records of two fine coaches and a lot of talented girls.
