PAINT CIZEK CENTER FOR THE ARTS Friday, Feb. 26 — Works of Craig Billings, Cindl Ford, Sharon Harper and Ann Wisnom will be showcased in the Main Gallery to April 2. Drawings by Christopher Pacione will be displayed in ArtSpace. Opening reception for both shows 7-9 p.m. Friday. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 407 Pine, Rochester, 681-4110.

ANN ARBOR ARTISTS' CO-OP Feb. 26-March 17 — The paintings of Zoell, an exhibiting member of the co-op can be seen in the lower level of Harris Hall, 617 East Huron, Ann Arbor. One of the Eastern Michigan University student's paintings has been on the cover of a national magazine. American String Teachers Association. The exhibit features a free raffle giving away one of Zoell's paintings that isn't part of the exhibit. Opening reception set for 5-8 p.m. Friday at the Artist Co-op Gallery.

LAWRENCE STREET GALLERY Friday, Feb. 26 — The public may meet the gallery's collective group of artists at "Bright Art and Blue Music" 7-9 p.m. Friday, Dennis Cyopyn and his group will play bluegrass and jazz. Refreshments will be served. Discounts of up to 20 percent on selected art works will be offered. The gallery is at 29 W. Lawrence in Pontiac. Call 334-6716.

LUDA ART GALLERY Saturday, Feb. 27 — "Russian Season," a show of oil on canvas, enamel on metal, mixed media on paper, puppet and costume design and contemporary sculpture, will continue to March 20. Opening reception 2-7 p.m. Saturday. The works are by Irina Baranovskaya, Oleksander Borodaj, Felika Braslavsky, Tigran Movsesian, Matveyeva Nadia, Anatoly Shapiro, Lada Tchornik and Oleksander Tkachenko. Hours are noon to 6 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday, on the upper level at 103 B E. Fourth, Rochester, 682-7052.

ROBERT KIDD GALLERY Saturday, Feb. 27 — Now clay sculpture by Beverly Mayerl and paintings by Bob Nugent will be exhibited to March 27. Opening reception to meet the artists 3-6 p.m. Saturday. Noted for her magical realism, Mayerl's recent sculptured busts and masks in clay present the human face with an air of dreamlike detachment. Nugent's paintings, "The Watershed Series," arise from his recent travels in the Amazon rainforests of South America. Hours are 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 107 Townsend, Birmingham, 642-3909.

WOODS GALLERY Beginning March 1 — An exhibit by fine art photographer Monte Nagler of Farmington Hills, who writes a column for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, will continue to March 30. A wine and cheese reception, and lecture entitled "A Journey Through Photographic History," will take place 7-9:30 p.m. Friday, March 19. Nagler, who studied his art with Ansel Adams, will discuss his private collection, showing works of Adams, Alfred Stieglitz, Edward Curtis, Yousof Karshi, Edward Weston, Irving Penn and many more. There will be a $5 donation at the door. All of Nagler's art work will be available for purchase, as well as his newly released second book, "Statements of Light." The exhibit will feature large scale, black and white, nature photography. The gallery is in the lower level of the Huntington Woods Library, 26416 Scotia. Call 643-9720.

ATRIUM GALLERY The gallery is now featuring Royal Oak artists Tammy and Robert Crenshaw with their witty and top-sophisticated furniture. Each piece is a one-of-a-kind creation. No two are alike. This furniture is art you can sit on, store love letters in or just look at and feel good. Also, Michael Oden from Northville is exhibiting clay jewelry, pottery and planters with unusual glazes. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Saturday, noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, 109 N. Center, Northville, 349-4131.

SANDRA COLLINS Through Feb. 27 — "Earth, Fire and Water: Porcelain and Bronze Works by Franka Boyden" continues. Boyden is foremost among a small coterie of Americans who produce wood-fired porcelain pieces. He also makes bronze sculpture. His pieces are in corporate collections and museums across the country as well as in museums in Europe. March 4-27 — "Amazing Wind Machines: Whirligigs by Jane Corbus and Jeff Crowe" features modern day renditions of these age-old devices. Corbus and Crowe, New England artists, use state of the art components to make wind machines that retain the charm and whimsy of antique whirligigs. Building on ideas "I look at a lot of architecture," said Rodriguez, a junior at CCS, whose pieces at the exhibit include a cabinet and a chair. "I like that a lot." Rodriguez's architectural inspiration can be seen in the cabinet, which resembles a building. It is made of curly maple and copper that was given a patina to make it look rusted. A star at the top is a touch from Rodriguez's native Argentina.

num leaf legs. Rodriguez calls it his "small chair." An executive desk by Rodriguez was featured last year in Furniture Design Manufacturers, a Chicago trade magazine. Individualism Both young designers like the unusual. "I like doing one-of-a-kind pieces," Rodriguez said. "You go to school not to redesign but to come up with new ideas, one-of-a-kind," Arbo said.
