They competed in the finals of just at of the 11 swimming events, taking only one second and one third. How in the world did they win? Depth. Points are awarded to the top 18 pleces. Salem amassed 279 points from their seven through 11 finishers. Here's an erample of how that works: Salem led Northville by one point and Stavenson by 10 bentering the final two events; and the Rocks didu't have a swimmer in the final heat of the 100 breatstroke.

Stovenson's Alex Goecke took first, setting a meet record with a 1:00.01 (topping his own mark of 1:00.03 set last year), and earned 24 points. Northvillo frechman Jeff Sieving took second (1:01.66), 21 points.

Salem's falls way behind, right? Uh-uh. Salem swimmers Alex Beard, Phil Hoffmeyer and Andy Detiling won spots 9, 10 and 12 – 32 points. "We were the larger team, they were the larger team," said North-ville coach Mark Heidem. "That's an unfair thing, but that's the way it is with this meet. This is the only meet around that scores 16 places." That, of course, is an old argu-ment and the consensus opinion is that the only fair way to score a 10-team league meet is to taily 18 places.

is that the only fair way to score a lotean league meet is to tally 18 places. "Let me stell you something, the kids scoring 13 to 18 in this con-ference would score in the top 12 in most other conferences around here," and Stevenson coach Doug Buckler. "We have so many good swimmers here, why should we hold them out of the scoring? It would be a misepresentation of this conference if only four or flow hold them out of the scoring?
