Opera Theatre dinner party Saturday, March 20, at Forest Lake Country Club.

Co-chairwoman Linda Schaefer held the invitation-addressing luncheon at her home. Linda convinced hubby Arnold to play the part of Keyes Almsley, a fading actor with a big ego. And good-sport brother-in-law Sheldon Toll will be Herman Grebb, theater stagehand with a secret. Other aspiring actors and actresses include Bob Vanderkloof, Maggie Altesse, Russel Wells (husband of party chairwoman Joan Wells), Ruth Fritzeauf, Don Bortz, Lorraine Schultz, Marge Slezak and Karen Vanderkloof DICHlers.

Tickets are $95 (general), $125 (patron) and $150 (benefactor). Call 874-7850 for reservations.

Eton Academy

Being a member of PLAIMS (Parents League Association of Independent Michigan Schools), I had an opportunity to see what makes Eton Academy so special. The academy is light years ahead at emphasizing a child's learning abilities and working around their disabilities.

On Sunday, March 28, Eton Academy will launch the U.S. Starship Eton Academy. The mission is to celebrate the fourth annual A World of Difference auction and $3001: An American Space Odyssey dinner. The star-rocket command will travel back to the Old West, the Roaring '20s and to the final "space frontier."

The Stars and Stripes Forever auction items include a week's stay in a castle in Italy, a Herndon entertainment center, a tour of the Sonoma Valley wine country and a six-month lease of a 1993 Cadillac Seville Touring Sedan STS. Tickets range from $50 per person (silent auction only) to $350 per couple for an evening package that includes dinner prepared by Opus One, entertainment and live auction. Candace and Gerald Seizert are general chairwoman and chairman, with Karla Scherer and Al Kaufman as this year's Heart Award recipients. Call 642-1150 for reservations or a $100 raffle ticket — $10,000 tax-free purse.

Country day, country night

Hold onto your hats, partner. We've got another rip-roarin' auction comin' up real soon.

Wanna bid on a kite-flyin' party and barbecue for 50, or a first-class trip for two to Hong Kong, including airfare, accommodations and food, or a how 'bout a real fast, red Z28 Camaro, a country hoedown at, yes sir, the genuine Holly Farms Ranch, a life-size Cinderella's Castle playset or a Mercury Villager GS van? Those are just some of the yippeee-o items that will be up for bids at the May 1, Country Day, Country Night Hoedown auction.

The committee posse recently saddled up and parted at the home of Drs. Lynda and Wendell Scales. Committee heads Joyce and Jan Green; acquisitions chairman and chairwoman Kedrick and Lynette Atkins and even headmaster Jerry Hansen arrived rodeo style in down-home country-western attire.

The artful garden

With spring just around the corner, it's time to start planning your garden. The Beaumont Foundation and ROPARD (dedicated to eliminating problems of low vision and blindness in children caused by premature birth and retinal disease) is celebrating "The Artful Garden" March 31 to April 4 at Oakland University's Shotwell-Gustafson Pavilion in Rochester. The Gala Preview Party 7-10 p.m. Wednesday, March 31, in the pavilion is chaired by Kay White Meyer and Winnie Ostrowski. Garden vignettes in global themes, architects and designers, garden art and marketplace will be in bloom. The evening's bill of fare will be provided by Opus One. For reservations call 642-9585. Tickets for the gala preview are $50 general, $100 patron. April 1-4, advance general admission is $7 adult, $4 children.

Mr. USA Michigan

Nearly 500 of Michigan's finest hunks entered the Mr. USA Michigan men's pageant. Participants ranged in age from 17 to 35, competed in swimwear, eveningwear and, most importantly, personal interview.

Chris Alexander of Milford now holds the eighth annual title and 20-year-old John Itoney of Rochester Hills walked away with third runner-up.

Annalisa Sokol, pageant producer, is accepting applications for Metro 25's Miss Grand Prix Pageant set for June 12. For more info call 332-PRIX.

St. Patty's Day party

The luck of the Irish was upon Matt Brady's Tavern in Farmington Hills and radio station WLLZ as they threw the biggest St. Patrick's Day Party ever to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Pre-party celebration started Tuesday evening, with celebrities raising ball and raling pitches of green beer. Festivities continued March 17, with a live WLLZ broadcast that began at 6 a.m. Celebrating ended in the wee hours of the night.

Taste of Troy

Chefs, artists and entertainers will highlight the first Cultural Taste of Troy at 2-6 p.m. Sunday, March 28, at the Troy Market. Proceeds will benefit the Capital Development Fund of the Boys & Girls Club of Troy.

Michael Sadofsky is chairman for the event.

For tickets ($25 adults, $10 children) call Jody House at 689-1687.

Hoedown hoedown: Lynda and Wendell Scales "go country" as they host the Detroit Country Day School Auction pre-party at their home in West Bloomfield.

Kidney benefit: Marilyn Habsburg of West Bloomfield, Marilyn Cramer of Farmington, Suzanne Lucas of Franklin, Audrey Kubicz of Wolverine Lake and Christine Hilmer of Novi attend "Puttin' on the Ritz."
