

New firefighters

PETER BALDWIN

A dozen on duty: Farmington Hills Fire Chief Richard Marinucci swore in 12 new members of the Farmington Hills Fire Department at headquarters on March 16. The volunteers have completed training over the past year in such areas as fire suppression, emergency medical care, and hazardous materials mitigation to become paid-on-call firefighters. They are (from left) Mathew Ratliff, Gery Delp, Scott Pasini, Kirk McDavitt, Benjamin Vaughan, James Neufeld, Scott Gardner, Stacy Swanderski, Michael Rebtov, Thaddeus Prusinski, Chad Lyon and Scott Legas.

Cable producers invited to D.C.

Cable Channel 12 co-producers Philip Singer and Todd Whitman have been invited to Washington, D.C., to present the seven-part video documentary "Complementary Health Therapies in England" to a national audience of health experts.

Singer will present to the national leaders in the field of alternative medicine his research and analysis in the field. He will present a paper,
"Alternative Therapies and Modern Medicine in the Year 2000 - Conflict or Integration."

The conference is being co-sponsored by the National Museum of Health and Medicine, the National Wellness Coalition, the National Institutes of Health Office of Alternative Medicine, and the U.S. Botanic Garden.

Natural medicine and health care reform and medicinal plants and practices from around the world will be the topics covered.
