North Farmington

The Raiders won't need divine intervention to improve on least season's 47-1 mark, but success may depend on the Lord — All Lord.

The sophomore forward, who led North with 15 goals in her rookle season, will help North continute to improve.

Last year's overall record is deceiving, according to fourth-year coach Kris Galczyk. Aber finishing 7-8-1 two years age and advancing to the district final before losing to Farmington Hills Mercy, the Raiders have improved the past three season.

Galczyk noted the Raiders have improved the past three season lost to Farmington 7-0 in 1990 and 6-1 in 1991 but tied 3-3 last season. North was also thrashed by Plymouth Salem 11-0 in 1990 and 7-1 in 1991, but tied 3-3 last season. North was also thrashed by Plymouth Salem 11-0 in 1990 and 7-1 in 1991, but tied 3-3 last season. North was also thrashed by Plymouth Salem 11-0 in 1990 and 7-1 in 1991, but for the form the force of the season by the Rocks.

"We've improved every year as a team and individually in skills, talent and effort," Galczyk said.

"We don't consider ourselves as underdogs anymore. The team has worked on self-confidence."

Lord, who is coming off a knee injury, is the reason the Raiders aren't considered underdogs anymore. The season the Raiders aren't considered underdogs anymore. more. "She's very talented," Galczyk said. "She's very talented," Galczyk said. "She has great skills — all the skills a good forward needs. I expect the same from her this year, her talent is unlimited. She can take over a game and she has the qualities of a leader."

North will try to make up for the loss of sweeper Carey Perkins, who transferred to Farmington Hills Harrison, left halfback Lau-ra Cook (moved) and center half-back Hadley Thurman (graduated). But a host of seniors return, in-cluding center hallback Lisa Ap-pel, forward Jenny Kahn (three, goals), halfback Michelle Wiber, stopper Sharon Sutton, left full-back Jenny Reff and sweeper An-drea Meluto, who played full-back last season.

back last season.
Junior forward Carrie Rejc, who scored five goals, is back along with sophomore halfback Amanda Markus.
Senior Julie Stone returns for her third year as the North goal keeper.
Galczyk has high hopes for five freshmen: fullbacks Beth Ann Bindon and Meghan Goge, forwards Kristen Kopacz and Natalie Reje and stopper Candace Perkins.

The sweeper position is a concern to Galcryk, but the speed of the Raiders might be able to overcome the weakness.

"Sweeper is a concern because I have to teach the position to Amanda from scratch," Galczyk said. "I'm confident, however, in all our other positions. The strengths of our team are speed, teamwork, experience and akills.
Those four things are important factors to our success."

again will count on members of that team to contribute in the distance runs.

Harrison lost Jason Zdyrski, the all-area choice in the 3,200 nu, but they still have senior Justin Dreyer, who was all-state in cross country, and sophomore Todd Haney, who was second behind Zdyrski in the 3,200 at the WIAA meet.

Senior Steve Quarterman, sophomores Justin and Chad Koonce and junior Doug Bacon are veteran cross country runners and trackmen, too.

"They're working hard and they're definitely going to score some points for us," Reed said.
Dreyer is the long holdower on either of the distance relay teams, but senior Scott Turner will help in that area, according to Reed.

Gurke, junior Brock Gove and sophomore Steve Shaieb have experience in the throwing eventa. All have thrown 40 fect or more in the shot put and will throw the from 1983-86 — and possibly a league title. Senior Dave Clinard, sophomore Tom May and junior Kevin Afflerbaugh will run the 800-meter, mile and two-mile events. The trio will get help from senior Mike Robles in the 800. Robles will also compete strongly in the 400 and jumping events. "Our strong point will be the distance events," said casch Dave Catherman, who enters his 24th season at Farmington. "(New cross country coach) Chip Bridges likes what he sees so far."

Senior Dan Martinovski returns as the top Farmington hurdler, as does sophomore Corey Minous, who will lead the Falcons in the shot put and discus events.

The Falcons will get a boost from junior Jason Jackson, a transfer from New York who will compete in the 400, 800 and jumping events.

Catherman has high hopes for the 400 and 800 relay teams of Sean Hassell, Nigel Whitt, Byan Lewis and Erik Rotenheber. The four sophomores won the Oakland County freshman championships last season in the two releys.

Farmington will have to make up for the loss of two outstanding performers from last season.

Jason Tucker was a state finalist in the high jump (6-6) and Chris Marting, who competes for Olivet College, excelled in the pole vault. Both were all-area athletes.

"Last year's team was more of a weekend team. We had some great performances by certain individuals." Catherman said. "This season, we have a little more depth but look the experience and the sonior leadership. But I really like the talent and the effort. I'd say the team is comparable to last year's a squad (which finished 3-3 overall)."
