

Amana

The Most Efficient, Complete Line Of 95% Gas Furnaces

Amana is proud to offer the home heating industry's most efficient line of gas furnaces. The Amana Air Command 95 furnaces provide dependable, super high efficiency home heating with standard features like self-diagnostic integrated controls, a long life ceramic ignitor, and a paint finishing process that resists corrosion for many years. But what sets the Air Command 95 furnace apart from its competition is its dual stainless steel heat exchanger system. The primary heat exchanger is made of durable 409 stainless steel tubing. Backed by a 25-year limited warranty, the tubular heat exchanger handles the repeated stress that comes with years of home heating. You'll relax in comfort knowing you're getting the maximum return on every energy dollar, year after comfortable year. You deserve a home heating system that provides safety, efficiency and the satisfaction knowing you made the right choice for quality home heating.
