

Cakes from page 6

Using flowers as cake decorations is a popular trend at all three of the bakeries mentioned.

The cakes decorated with fresh red roses are among his favorites from Machus, Wood said.

Lorrie Chopra, owner of Lorrie's Confectionately Yours in Livonia, says her patrons usually select flowers for their decorations. Her store works closely with florists to coordinate the flowers for the cake and wedding.

"About the only time we use a traditional wedding decoration on top," she said, "is when someone has one that's been handed down in their family or when they have a really nice one such as a Lladro. Our cakes are not traditional ones, however. We make more contemporary wedding cakes. We only make tortes and cheesecakes."

Offering different flavors is a trend at Chopra's. "We usually put the tortes and cheesecakes on staggered Lucite stands. Our customers frequently select different flavored desserts to offer their guests."

The current popular flavors at Lorrie's Confectionately Yours are Frangelico liqueur for the tortes and Bailey's Irish Creme for the cheesecakes.

"It's not enough to make a cake that looks good anymore," Wood said. "It also has to taste good."
