They're the Oscars of the architectural world, the Grammys of the construction trades.

Designers and builders of eight major Detroit area projects will be honored Friday, June 4, by the Engineering Society of Detroit (ESD) as winners of the 1993 construction and design awards. And the winners with ties to the Observer & Eccentric area are:

■ Troy High School — owned by the Troy School District, designed by Perkins & Will; general contractor: Barton Malow Co. of Southfield.

The design employs extensive use of glass and simple geometric shapes. The school is conceived as a series of parallel bars running east to west that form a series of courtyards, some of which are U-shaped and open to wooded areas. The elevation is also built into a slope of the site to reduce its bulky appearance and to allow for multi-level access to the outside. The athletic area is designed so that gyms, pools, locker rooms and playing fields are clustered together away from the academic areas of the school.

A tower at the main entrance serves as housing for a stairwell and mechanical equipment. The spire also pinpoints the administration, counseling offices and main entrance.

■ W.K. Kellogg Foundation Headquarters, Battle Creek — owned by the Kellogg Foundation, designed by Luckenbach/Ziegelman and Partners.
