

Tracy and Phil examine issues on 'Bagels and Talk'

LARK SAMOUELIAN

What people want to see and hear is local — local ideas, individual ideas, what one another thinks. "Bagels and Talk" offers each of us the opportunity to cast our own opinions. Rather than just watch, why don't you come down and be a part of the show.

From a plane flying to Washington, D.C., to an apartment complex on Grand River, there are television viewers watching the controversial subjects discussed by Tracy and Phil on "Bagels and Talk."

Harry and Claire also discussed the chemical makeup of herbs, vitamins and foods and how the composition of these blend to get in one's chemical makeup.

to determine their potential effect on an individual's health. Complementary health is a subject that many of our television programs are focusing attention on. It is interesting that this is also a national issue. But what makes this programming so important is that it is you and I who have to deal with all of these claims. Watch "Bagels and Talk" with Tracy and Phil.
