Mirror imagery

Mirrors are consulted many times in the course of a day, or admired as decoration, but rarely "reflected".

That can change with a viet: the Sybaris Gallery, 301 W. Fourth in Royal Oak (call 54388), to see the exhibit called "Visions Reflected." The show, continuing to June 26, consists of mirrors by 12 artists working in metal, wood, fiber and clay.

Christina 'DePaul's mirror is inside a 14-karat gold leaf container that resembles a vase. Bunches of twisted, peeled maple sticks aurround the wall mirror scalled "Reflecting the Forest" by Jon Brooks.

The piece called "Big Ohio Earth Mama" by Susan Shie and James Acord is a 78-by-54-inch quilt that contains mirrors, glass marbles, crystales, glass beads and leather medallions. The images and designs make it seem like a spiritual object. Another piece suggesting spirituality by Sherry Hart. It is made of beads, bone and mirrors and features symbols of wisdom.

Hart's "Me and My Shadow," of beads, wood and mirrors, consists of two similar objects, one the "shadow" of the other and outlined with small mirrored
