

Wait 'til next year

Take your mark: Oakland University engineering students Steve Fiondo, Chirag Sheh of Rochester and D.J. McCune of Auburn Hills check over their entry — a modified golf cart named UGLY (Unguided Generic Land Yacht) — in the first Unmanned Ground Robotics Competition held at Oakland University Friday. Since no vehicle completed the course, the $10,000 prize was divided among the three top finishers — University of Tulsa ($5,000); University of Michigan ($3,000); and University of Colorado-Denver ($2,000). OU came in sixth of the seven entries. They'll host the meet again next year.
