

The Old Eagle Mill

Many Years
It
Stood

By The Side
Of The Road

• • Built in 1847—stood until 1923 on Power Road

As The Town Hall Used To Be

The old "Town Hall and Masonic Lodge Room," before the addition was placed on the west end. It was built in 1876. This photograph appeared in the Tenth Anniversary Edition of the Enterprise thirty years ago.

Do You Know Him?

Of course you know him—but do you recognize his picture? None other than James L. Hogle, in the days when he was active in County politics, and held the office of County Treasurer. Now he's president of the Peoples State Bank.

A Gay Young Blade

A dashing, handsome young man of the late eighties, was this one. We're sure you'd never guess, so we'll tell you that it's City Clerk N. H. Power, at the age of 28.

A Familiar Face

No mystery about this one. Of course it's Supervisor Harry N. McCracken. In those days he was head of the Farmington Schools, and later went to State Legislature. He owned the Enterprise, once, too.

Our Oldest Resident

MRS. BEULAH NOBLE

She'll soon be celebrating her first birthday—after the hundredth.