limit the latest round of extended jobless benefits (HR 3167, above) to states with at least five percent unemployment. The amendment would have excluded from the program 10 states with relatively low unemployment — Delaware, Hawaii, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah and Wisconsin.

Sponsor Nancy Johnson, R-Conn., said "Congress cannot make responsible fiscal decisions and use tax dollars prudently but is the prisoner of a one-size-fits-all mentality that squanders our resources."

Opponent Earl Pomeroy, D-N.D., called the amendment "a blunt instrument that would save a small sum of money only by arbitrarily denying many American families their rightful access to emergency unemployment benefits."

A yes vote supported the amendment. Area representatives voting yes were: Knollenberg. Voting no: Carr, Kildee, Levin and Ford.

Selective Service: The House voted 236 for and 194 against to preserve the Selective Service, which registers 18-year-olds for any restoration of the military draft. This reversed a House vote four months earlier to kill the agency, and put the House in agreement with the Senate that the Selective Service should be kept alive. The vote approved a $25 million service budget as part of a multi-agency fiscal 1994 appropriations bill (HR 2491).

Supporter Sonny Montgomery, D-Miss., asked: "Why destroy the Selective Service when we have no idea what the future holds for the United States in this troubled world?"

Opponent Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, said the Selective Service "is not a military necessity because the volunteer army has succeeded in dealing with every crisis for 20 years, including Desert Storm."

A yes vote was to preserve the Selective Service. Area representatives voting no were: Carr, Kildee, Knollenberg, Levin and Ford.

SENATE

Command Issue: By a vote of 33 for and 65 against, the Senate rejected an amendment to prevent foreign commands other than NATO from sending American troops into combat. The amendment was aimed mainly at United Nations commands such as those for Somalia, Bosnia and Haiti. It was offered to a fiscal 1994 defense appropriations bill (HR 3116) later sent to conference with the House.

Sponsor Don Nickles, R-Okla., objected to committing U.S. combat troops "to an international standing army that is without a mission, that is looking for a fire to put out, looking for a problem to solve."

Opponent Sam Nunn, D-Ga., said Congress should caution President Clinton about U.S. combat in hotspots like Haiti and Bosnia but stop short permanently changing "the balance of power between the Congress . . . and the president of the United States."

A yes vote was to prohibit United Nations commanders from sending American troops into combat. Michigan Sens. Carl Levin, D, and Donald Riegle, D, voted no.

Civilian Marksmanship: By a tally of 67 for and 30 against, the Senate voted to continue the Civilian Marksmanship Program that will spend $2.5 million in fiscal 1994 to help the National Rifle Association and private gun clubs teach shooting skills to young people. The Pentagon provides guns and ammunition to clubs participating in the 90-year-old government program. The vote occurred during debate on the 1994 defense appropriations bill (HR 3116).

Supporter Conrad Burns, R-Mont., said "this program is not wasteful. It teaches the youth in Montana and others throughout the country proper firearm safety and training."

A yes vote was to continue the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Carl Levin and Donald Riegle both voted no.
