SHARON LEMIEUX/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Repeat performance: Byron Burress, who is a new Farmington Public Safety reserve officer, takes the oath in city council chambers. Burress, 26, is a resident of Farmington and completed the Reserve Policy Academy at Schoolcraft College in December. He received his Firefighter One certification with the Tri-City Fire Department where he was employed for 2½ years. He now works as a dispatcher for the West Bloomfield Township police.

It took just one ad

Todd Schou sold his "pop-up" trailer with just one Observer & Eccentric Classified ad. In fact the first call turned out to be his buyer, John Todd Schou and smashed and the door lock punctured on a mason 1993 Buick Century at the Muirwood Apartments on Ravine Circle in Farmington Hills, causing $400 in damage, and a $200 Escort radar detector was stolen Jan. 21-22.

The soft top of a black 1990 Geo Tracker parked at the Old Orchard Theatre on Orchard Lake in Farmington Hills was torn off Jan. 24 and the dash board was torn up in an unsuccessful attempt to steal a radio that caused $1,000 in damage.

A radio ($200) was stolen from a blue Chevy Lumina parked at Vladimir's on Grand River Jan. 24 after the car's lock was punched, causing $100 in damage. The car's owner had taken the shuttle bus to her job at Botsford Hospital. The shuttle bus driver later saw a man described as black, wearing a brown leather coat, blue jeans and a dark baseball cap trying to get into the Chevy and then driving away in a late model white Pontiac Grand Am.

An Oki $900 car phone and car keys ($600) were stolen from a maroon Toyota Camry parked at the Muirwood Apartments on Woodridge Circle in Farmington Hills Jan. 21-22.

"People do read the ads"

Ollie Colard now knows something we've known for years—people not only read our Observer & Eccentric Classifieds, they call on them and buy from them. "My response was excellent," Ollie told us.
