■ SCHOLAR DOLLARS
North Farmington senior Melanie Beth Downie has been awarded a $5,500 DePauw Scholarship by DePauw University. DePauw Scholarships are awarded to students who demonstrate exceptional academic achievement and leadership. Downie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Downie of Farmington Hills. DePauw University is a coeducational, liberal arts school

In Greencastle, Ind.
■ GRANTED
Forest Elementary teachers Sally Wilson and Kathy Montmorency and Our Lady of Sorrows Middle School teacher Rosanna Jodway each received grants from the Detroit Edison Foundation mini-grant program for environmental projects. The grants, averaging $275 each, were presented Feb. 21 at the Oakland School Science Center in Waterford. Wilson and Montmorency received a grant for their Forest Elementary classroom project, "Nature Trail Redefinition." Jodway was awarded for Sorrows' "Earth Matters." Teachers submitted project proposals to intermediate school district personnel for judging. The Detroit Edison mini-grant program is in its fifth year and has awarded $100,000 to nearly 400 teachers for energy related projects.

■ JAPANESE GENEROSITY
Farmington Public Schools received $1,600 in a grant from Japan Business Society of Detroit, JSD Foundation. The award was part of $30,000 given by the foundation to 20 public school districts in the area. The organization was founded in 1973 as the Japanese Society of Detroit and has 225 corporate and 1,300 individual members in the Detroit area.
■ KEYS UP
Highmeadow Common Campus third-grader Kobe Ergas Shwayder was awarded first prize in Division One of the Detroit Musicians' League annual Piano Scholarship Competition in February. He performed works by Scarlatti and Bartok. He also won an award for his composition entitled "Bar Talk" at the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs statewide competition. He is the son of Aimee Ergas and Tor Shwayder of Farmington Hills and studies piano with Catherine Rollin of Bloomfield Hills.

■ DIDGET WELL

Farmington High senior Wei Li received honorable mention as one of the top 102 students in the 37th annual Michigan Mathematical Prize Competition sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America annual. This year more than 18,000 high school students took Part I of the test. To make the top 102 list is comparable to an all-state award in athletics.
