

Precinct delegates wow GOP

More than 550 individuals have filed for election as Republican precinct delegates in the Aug. 2 primary election.

"I believe this is the largest number of individuals who have ever filed for precinct delegate in the Republican Party in Oakland County," said Jim Alexander, GOP chair in Oakland.

"Precinct Delegates are the grassroots leaders of our party, and their efforts are essential if we are to be victorious in November. This kind of turnout, in a non-presidential year, is not only unprecedented, but a testament to the support generated by Gov. John Engler, county Executive L. Brooks Patterson and our elected officials from the courthouse to the statehouse.

"Normally," Alexander continued, "Precinct delegate filings are down in off-election years. Many people, including all of our community directors, party staff, congressional district leadership in the 9th, 11th and 12th Districts, worked exceedingly hard to generate this type of turnout. This can only bode well for our candidates as we move into the November election."

Delegates are elected in the Aug. 2 primary as "delegates to the County Convention." They will initially meet on Aug. 11 to determine delegates to the Aug. 26-27 state convention, which will nominate party candidates for lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, state Supreme Court, state Board of Education and the governing boards of the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

Children's group receives Target grant

The Child Abuse and Neglect Council of Oakland County, a non-profit organization dedicated to child abuse prevention, received a grant for $4,000 from Target Stores.

The council provides public awareness, education and prevention services to Oakland County. Its Peaceful Parenting program focuses on positive forms of family communication and discipline techniques for parents. The Peaceful Parenting program has reached over 5,000 parents since its inception in 1991. The grant will be used to support the Peaceful Parenting program's outreach to community groups, civic organizations, parent meetings, etc.

"We are proud to be recognized again by Target through this grant," said Linda Chastain, coordinator of Parent Education for the council. "This is the fourth year Target has supported the Peaceful Parenting program, which in turn supports people in their stressful and challenging role as parents in today's society."

Target Stores, a Minneapolis-based discount retailer, has established a 30-year tradition of volunteerism, community outreach programs and grant-making. The goal of Target's grants program is to support arts activities for family audiences and social service programs that strengthen families.

To learn more about the Peaceful Parenting program or to schedule a presentation, please call Chastain at the council at 810-332-7173.
