

Royal Valley Coffees

Get away from the idea that the ONLY coffee is the kind that Grandmother used—the carelessly grown, crudely prepared coffee much of which was, and is, harmful in effects and anything but the best in flavor.

The world is going forward—not standing still.

Coffee like every good thing, should improve—and Royal Valley Coffees are the very latest and best evidences of that improvement.

ROYAL VALLEY

NERO, MARIGOLD and TIGAR

coffees are grown with extra care and are purified, roasted and blended by the most modern process in use today.

That process removes everything that does not contribute to the coffee's good: maintains a stronger "body"; prevents conditions which commonly cause the destruction of much of the rich coffee-flavor.

There are other good coffees besides Royal Valley, but not one of equal quality that sells for less than 10 to 15c more per pound.

ROYAL VALLEY NERO is 25c. MARIGOLD is 30c and TIGAR is 35c per pound.

If you want something really extra in coffee—at a price of the common—don't wait any longer before trying a ROYAL VALLEY COFFEE.
