

Happy celebration: The Clarenceville Class of '94 broke out the Silly String at the end of the graduation ceremony.

C'ville grads say bye, get diplomas

The song the senior choir sang told the story for Clarenceville's class of '94: "We Must Say Good-bye."

Eighty-six graduates received their diplomas June 10 during graduation ceremonies at Clarenceville High.

The high school band kicked off the ceremonies with the traditional graduation processional "Pomp and Circumstance."

Adam Brandemihl gave the valedictorian address; David Welper spoke as salutatorian of the graduating class.

■ Superintendent David Kamish introduced the speaker, Kathryn Treastain, a 1984 graduate of Clarenceville High.

Clarenceville High principal David Slinowski introduced the class of '94 to the audience. Linda Brandemihl, president of the Clarenceville Board of Education, and Joann Kefalas, senior class sponsor, gave the graduates their diplomas.

Covered with pasta? It looks like spaghetti, but Bob Jaber is simply wearing the goop the graduates released at the end of the formal ceremony. Shawn Fletcher joins Jaber in showing off his diploma.

You share the same body, the same life-giving nutrients for nine months. Each of you affects the other in countless ways.

Why is it then that many hospitals treat you and your baby like completely unrelated people?

OUR NURSES SEE THEM AS STILL BEING ATTACHED

You stay in your room. Your baby stays in the nursery. And you're each cared for by a different nurse.

A better way

At St. Mary Hospital we offer a better way to begin. A personal nurse takes care of you and your baby together to encourage the best possible start. So your nurse can tell how your comfort level, moods and medication may be affecting your baby. And how your baby's behavior influences you. This new way of caring is called mother-baby nursing.

Mother-baby nurses

With mother-baby nurses, you can learn by watching the nurse care for your newborn at your bedside instead of out of your sight in a nursery. If you have a question about your baby, the nurse can answer it immediately. You won't have to wait for the "baby nurse."

The Miracle of Life Maternity Center at St. Mary Hospital has mother-baby nursing all the time.

More support, more education. It's a better way of caring. To learn more about the benefits of mother-baby nursing call 313-591-2882. Ask for a free brochure, tour, or physician referral.
