If Salem beats Glenn, either Stevenson or Farmington will be the only 4-1 team and the outright champion.

On Saturday, the Farmington will decide the Western Division will decide the Western Division winner and the other WLAA finalist.

Wayne Memorial has an important Mega Conference-Red Division game Saturday when it plays heat to unbeaten and No. 2-ranked (Class AA) Belleville.

On Sunday, the Catholic League taken its turn.

Redford Catholic Central tees it up sgainst archrival Birmingham Brother Rior in the 50th anniversary of the Boys Bowl.

The tradition began with CC playing host to Boystown from Nebraska, but Rice has provided the opposition since 1866.

A pair of Class D powers, Redford St. Agatha and Center Line St. Clement, clash on the East Side in a key Catholic C-Section game Sunday, also.

In the prediction contest, Dan O'Mears maintains a slim lead after going 11-3 last week to put his overall record at 63-20. Brad Emons was 10-4 and is 66-23.

It's crunch time for Observerland football teams, and six games this weak will impact or determine division championships as well as playoff chances.

The big ones Friday are the Farmington-Livonia Stevenson and Westland Glenn-Plymouth Salem games that will decide the Lakes Division title.

Here's the situation:
If Glenn wins, it will be a coclamp with the Farmington-Stevenson winner, but the key is who gots to represent the division in the Western Lakes Activities Association championship game.

If Stevenson and Glenn win, Stevenson goes to the final be-cause it best Glenn; if Glenn and Farmington win, Glenn gets the nod based on head-to-head com-
