

Classes help focus photography skills

Don't quite understand all the features on your camera? Having trouble getting everything in focus from front to back in your pictures? Exposures not what they should be?

Maybe it's time to consider taking a photography class. The likely modest cost for a course will pay off handsomely in better, more impact-filled photographs.

A good photography class combined with a good instructor will motivate and stimulate your photography interests. After completing a course, you'll be pleasantly pleased in the improvement in your photos. I have been teaching photography courses for many years and it is extremely gratifying to see students "grow" and get "turned on" to their photography.

Photography classes can be found in all metropolitan areas. Most local communities have adult education programs where a good photography course is always available. Check with community colleges in your area, too. In addition to regular classes, they offer darkroom programs for the more serious photo buff.

Many large camera stores will offer classes or can assist you in finding one. Large companies such as Nikon conduct weekend seminars in major cities around the country. These are excellent and will definitely stimulate your photographic skills.

For the more serious photo enthusiasts, noted workshops can be found from coast to coast such as the Maine Photographic Workshops and the Ansel Adams Workshops in California. The knowledge and camaraderie you'll gain at these workshops just can't be beat. All major photo magazines list such programs.

For the real adventurous, traveling workshops are readily available. These can be as diverse as a weekend workshop close to home or a photo safari in Africa. Learning on location is perhaps the best way to sharpen your photographic skills.

Each year, I conduct a traveling workshop. We've been to China, the Canadian Rockies and many more scenic locations. The resulting photos from the students have been superb.

Monte Nagler is a fine photographer based in Farmington Hills. You can leave him a message by dialing (313) 953-2047 on a touch-tone phone, then his mailbox number, 1873. His fax number is (810) 644-1314.

Fine art show, auction to benefit center

Local people and organizations are donating their talents and abilities to ArtShare '94, an exhibit and auction of fine art to benefit the abused and neglected children served by the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center in Farmington Hills.

Presented by the Ford Motor Co., the event will take place 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Somerset Collection, Big Beaver Road and Coolidge in Troy. It celebrates the shared talents of Pewabic Pottery and more than 100 other artists, including celebrities.

Tickets to ArtShare are $30 per person, two for $50. The art will be on display at the Somerset Collection Thursday-Saturday, Oct. 20-22. For more information, call the center's agency relations department at (810) 628-7527, Ext. 280.

Honorary chairman is Leon Cohen, a member of the governing body of the Detroit Institute of Arts and a founder of the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Originated and spearheaded by chairwoman Maria Martella of Executec Resource Consultants Inc., ArtShare will begin with a silent auction at 7:30 p.m. and continue with a live auction at 9 p.m. Marilyn Turner and John Kelly of WXYZ-TV will entertain as the evening's auctioneers, and world renowned harpist Kristen Agresta of Bloomfield Hills will perform. Hors d'oeuvres courtesy of Arriva Ristorante, wine from DeCoster Imports and desserts by Frenchie's Catering will be served.

Among those serving as honorary art advisers are International Society of Sculptors and art educator Sergio DeGiusti of Redford Township, and art agent and collector Elaine Saltzman of West Bloomfield, a member of the Forum for Contemporary Art and the Friends of Modern Art at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Miniature exhibit among fall highlights

The opening of fall classes and plans for a student show have been announced by Criss Goad, owner of Miniature Makers' Workshop, 4515 N. Woodward in Royal Oak.

Goad invites students who have created miniature furnishings and room boxes in workshop classes to enter them in the show. Celebrating National Miniatures Month in October and the 10th anniversary of the workshop, the free exhibit of student work will be Saturday-Sunday, Oct. 22-23, at the workshop.

For information on entering the student show, or for a flyer with complete class details, call (810) 549-0633.

Tuition prices vary according to class length and materials furnished. Reservations for classes should be made two weeks in advance.

Samples of the miniatures to be covered in the classes are on view at the workshop.

A holiday table setting under a dome, to be used as a gift or centerpiece, will be the all-day subject of workshop owner Criss Goad Tuesday, Nov. 1. She also will lecture on electrical wiring Saturday, Jan. 28.

Linda Rath of Rochester Hills will teach a class Tuesday, Nov. 15, on making Christmas cookies, and one Tuesday, Nov. 29, on a Christmas candle arrangement.

Nancy VanCamp of Pontiac will conduct separate classes on using Fimo clay to create a holiday turkey, a cornucopia centerpiece and a tray of cookies for Santa.

Ted Goad invites students to bring their dollhouses and wire them with his assistance Saturday, Oct. 29.

Gail Braman of Farmington Hills will teach sessions on making an outdoor goldfish pond and a bird cage on a table.
