WSU Candidates Appear At Rally

By ELIZABETH WISSMAN

Two candidates at the Republican Women's Club of Farmington candidate's night Thursday were the two running for the least familiar jobs -- Wayne State University Board of Governors.

The GOP candidates for this office are Victor C. Raviolo and Kurt Keydel.

A NATIVE Detroiter and partner in a Detroit business firm, Keydel is publisher of a German language newspaper.

He said the WSU board was charged with the financial management of the university and with the administration of the university's broad policies.

He noted that the WSU problem that bothers most people is the extreme liberalism in the university and cited this as a paramount issue.

One of the school's special problems, said Keydel is "encouraging the Negro students to become teachers."

He stated he felt that WSU "should be a leader in seeking the solutions to city problems."

RAVIOLO agreed with Keydel that the urban university can be a key in solving problems of the cities.

He also referred to student radicalism and said, "In the name of freedom they carry on their program of destruction, but extremism has always destroyed freedom."

Stating that simple repression does not work, Raviolo suggested, "We must find constructive programs for the idealistic student, develop better representation by the students in student government and encourage the faculty to become more active."

2 Injured In Township

Two Farmington area residents were treated and released in Botsford General Hospital following a two car collision Oct. 22 at 2 p.m. at Farmington Road and Freedom.

Mrs. M. Muriel Schaldenbrand, of 27615 Halstead, Farmington Township, was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way, police said.

Mrs. Schaldenbrand was attempting a left turn from northbound Farmington Road when she hit a car driven by Curtis M. Russell, of Livonia, police said.

Miss Terese Joy Balone, of 32281 Valley View Court, was injured as a passenger in the Russell car.

Police reported the road conditions as wet and drivers speed as between 20 and 30 miles per hour.
