

Franklin grad tours Belgium as hoop all-star

By Brad Enons Staff Writer

The summer is usually time to kick back and relax, but not for Dawn Warner.

Aug. 15-26 in Belgium. "I'm glad to have this opportunity," said Warner, who as a junior helped lead the Lady Toppers to 29-4 overall record and a ride to the NCAA's Sweet 16. "I'm going to find out if I can handle the environment over there. I'll also find out about the competition level, the way they treat Americans and try out the living conditions."

Warner, who averaged 10 points and close to five assists per game last season, will be traveling with the People to People Sports Committee, which is sponsoring the trip.

The select team is coached by Joanne Palombo of the University of Maine. Players from NCAA's Connecticut and runner-up Tennessee are also scheduled to participate.

Warner has to raise nearly $2,300 to make the trip, but she believes the effort is well worth the cost.

"It's going give me good recognition," Warner said. "In the back of my mind I have to find out if I want to spend a couple of years over there and continue to play, or get right into coaching and become a graduate assistant." Warner has spent the summer in Bowling Green, and the schedule she has been given. She attends morning classes, works in the pm shop of a local country club and spends many late afternoons doing conditioning, which includes shooting, running, biking and lifting weights. She also gets in an occasional game against the men.

"I want to go out in style my senior year," said Warner, who is the lone returning starter for the Lady Toppers. "I don't want to regret anything, but more importantly I want to have fun."

Warner will start at the point next year, but could also see action at the No. 2 guard slot. Laurie Townsend, who played last year as a freshman, will make up the two-guard tandem.

As a junior, Warner blossomed as a starter and has become an all-around player.

She hit the game-winning shot with five seconds left to beat highly touted Louisiana Tech on the Lady Techsters' home floor in the Sun Belt Conference Tournament championship game.

"That has got to be a highlight to beat a team like 'La Tech' on their home floor," Warner said. "It was a thrill for the whole team, just not me."

"The first time we beat them badly on our home floor before 9,000 (fans at Diddle Arena), and then they turned around and beat us soundly the second time down there."

"Winning that tournament

(playoff) game was special for everyone."

Warner, who holds all the Franklin scoring records and was No. 2 in the 1991 Michigan Miss Basketball voting, will get a chance to play before family and friends this season when the Lady Toppers travel Tuesday, Dec. 19, to play at Michigan State.

"My coach (Paul Sanderford) had promised me since I've been here that we would play in my home state, and I'm excited about it," she said. "A lot of people said they're going to come."

But first there's Belgium for Warner, who is still accepting donations, which are tax deductible.

Wolverines fight to stay atop division

HOCKEY

A fast start enabled the Wolverines to stay in the hunt for the top spot in the Metro Summer Hockey League's Eagle Division.

By an 8-3 triumph over the Lakers Monday at Plymouth Ice Arena.

By the midpoint of the second period, the Wolves (now 4-1) had built a 5-0 lead. With Todd Cranell in goal, that lead was enough.

Brian Hannigan scored the game's first two goals; he later added an assist. Kevin Berger (from Livonia) also scored twice for the Wolves, with Jim Neash (Plymouth) scoring one goal and assisting on two others and Bob Nayer, Eric Norman and Kevin Mankowski getting a goal and an assist apiece.

Ian Crockford scored twice and Mike Kuculain got one for the Lakers (2-3-1).

■ Spartans 16, Broncos 8: Tuesday's second game at Plymouth proved to be a wild shootout, with the winless Broncos (0-6) closing to within three goals with more than 13 minutes to play — a margin that, in a game like this, was easily surmountable.

But the Spartans held on to post their first win of the season (1-3), thanks to single goals by Jeff Lupo and Bobby Jones and two from Steve Jones in the final 19:36. For the game, Lupo totaled three goals and two assists, Mike Pettit and Cory Almas each had two goals and three assists, and Vic Decina (Canton) had a goal and five assists.

J.P. Grandin, Brady Priest (Livonia) and Kevin Hagarty each added a goal and two assists for the Spartans, with Paola Decina (Canton) and Matt Capaldi (Canton) each netting a goal and an assist.

The Spartans' scoring spree overshadowed a strong performance by the Broncos' Dave Weaver (Plymouth), who scored three first-period goals and had four for the game, with two assists. Jason Szykowski added two goals, with Paul Goleniak (Westland) scoring once and assisting on three others and Scott Goleniak (Westland) getting a goal and two assists. Eric Gateman also had a goal.

■ Wildcats 7, Broncos 6: Three times in the final period the Broncos closed to within a goal of the lead, but the Wildcats (4-1) had a reply for each and every time, eventually claiming a two-goal triumph Sunday at Plymouth Ice Arena.

Both Jake Wiegand (Plymouth) and Mark Pietila scored twice to lead the Wildcat attack.

Wiegand's second goal with 7:54 remaining in the third period pushed the Wildcats' lead to 5-3, and after the Broncos again narrowed the margin to one Pietila scored with 6:01 left to make it 6-4.

Paul Goleniak (Westland), who had a goal and an assist for the winless Broncos, put one past Wildcat goalie Jim Sezamith with 4:07 to go to again make it a one-goal game, but Ron Pietila tied the victory with a goal for the Wildcats with 2:00 left.

Ron Pietila finished with a goal and two assists, Jim Pietila added a goal and an assist, and Bob Kansas scored for the Wildcats.

HOCKEY

Eric Frantti and Keith Pietila each contributed two assists.

For the Broncos, Ryan Morris had two goals and Scott Goleniak (Westland) clipped in with a goal and two assists. Johnny Shouneya and Paul Goleniak contributed a goal and an assist apiece, with Tyler Brush getting two assists.

■ Huskies 9, Bulldogs 7: A closing rush by the Bulldogs wasn't enough to save them Sunday against the Huskies.

Dustin Sventy and Tony McGee each popped in three goals and assisted on three others for the Huskies (2-2), with Jason Weber (Livonia) adding two goals and four assists. Kevin Beaudoin collected a goal and an assist.

For the Bulldogs (1-3-1), who scored three goals in the final 4:00 to narrow the gap, Krikor Arman had two goals and two assists. Tim McConnell and Edward Kruscha (Livonia) each contributed a goal and two assists, and Jack McCoy (Livonia) had a goal and an assist. Dan Sluon scored one and John Brodhun (Livonia) and Justin Young (Westland) added two assists each.

■ Falcons 13, Lakers 4: An eight-goal second period was more than the Lakers could withstand when they took on the MSHL's only unbeaten team, the Falcons (5-0), Monday at Plymouth.

Tony Guzzo (Plymouth), Mario Mazzuca, Darren Handa, Dan Brady and Paul Schloss (Livonia) each scored two goals to lead the Falcon assault. Guzzo also had four assists, with Mazzuca and Handa getting two apiece and Brady one.

A REAL EYE OPENER

Eye lid surgery may not remove excess fat and other wrinkles associated with the eyes, but it can give the eyes a more alert youthful appearance. It does so by reattaching the upper lids of the droop that has often contributed to a sleepy appearance. It makes an incision in the natural fold of the upper eyelids; the surgeon is able to remove some of the excess fat, skin, and muscle that can encumber the eye like heavy lids. As for lower lid surgery, it entails an incision on or below the lid margin that allows for removal of much of the fat that can give under-eye puffiness. Sagging skin and muscle may also be trimmed. The results of bipharyoplasty last at least five years, while many other permanent correction methods require more surgery than is usually recommended.

Patients by advertising agencies show that when we look at another person our gaze focuses on a triangle that is made up of the eyes and nose. Excess skin, fat, and wrinkles around the eyelids can make a person look unappetizingly tired or old. In both cases, about eyelid surgery, call METRO SYSTEM PLASTIC SURGERY CENTRE at (517) 312-0210 or 1-800-816-8284. In complete bipharyoplasty surgery, results in normal development and the recovery is relatively rapid with pleasing, lasting results. Bland eyelids, we are conveniently located at 2704 Main Street, Suite 100, less than one hour from Metro Detroit.
