Crippled by Tuberculosis. According to a recent report by Dr. Conrad Blesalski of Berlin, there are 75,000 cripples in the German Empire, and out of a population of 60,000,000. Over 50,000 of the cripples are in need of proper treatment. Doctor Blesalski states that in 15 per cent. of the cripples examined, they were definitely cured of tuberculosis of the bones and joints, and that there were 10,000 such children in great need of medical treatment. He advocates the establishment of sanatoria for this latter class of cripples.

COFFEE CONGESTION Causes a Variety of Ails.

A happy old lady in Wisconsin says:

"During the time I was a coffee drinker I was subject to sick headaches, sometimes lasting 2 or 3 days, totally unfitting me for anything.

To this affliction was added, some years ago, a trouble with my heart that was very painful, accompanied by a smothering sensation and faintness.

"Dr. Peppas, also, came to make life harder to bear. I took all sorts of patent medicines but none of them helped me for any length of time.

"The doctors frequently told me that coffee was not good for me; but without coffee I felt as if I had no breakfast. I finally decided about 2 years ago to abandon the use of coffee entirely, and as I had read a great deal about Postum I concluded to try that for a breakfast beverage.

"I liked the taste of it and was particularly pleased to notice that it did not 'come up' as coffee used to. The bad spells with my heart grew less and less frequent, and finally ceased altogether, and I have not had an attack of sick headache for once, too, and year. My digestion is good, too, and I am thankful that I am once more a healthy woman. I know my wonderful restoration to health came from quitting coffee and using Postum. Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

STRAWBERRIES MAKE GOOD ADDITION TO VEGETABLES

Up-to-Date Methods of Growing This Luscious Fruit Insures Sure and Large Returns—Grocers and Housekeepers Want Choice Berries.

(By F. E. BEATTY.)

The grower of strawberries is more sure of a good annual profit from strawberries than from almost any other crop. Because strawberries are the hardest, as well as the best, of all fruits; and it does not require any more labor to grow strawberries of high quality than it does to grow vegetables of the same class.

In the growing of strawberries, you have practically no plant enemies—insects or fungi—to combat, providing you follow up-to-date methods. Rotation of crops, fall plowing, thorough and repeated cultivation, strong, healthy plants, mowing off the foliage and burning immediately after the last picking, are the things which may make the growing unnecessary.

Crop rotation is a necessity; with any kind of farming. It encourages a healthy and productive condition of the soil.

Fall plowing discourages all kinds of underground insect, such as the white grub, root-maggot and wireworm.

Thorough cultivation keeps down weeds and all obnoxious growths which if allowed to grow, would afford a breeding and hibernating place for insects.

Strong, healthy plants insure you against the enemies of the strawberry: crown-borer, root-borer and aphids, as well as fungous diseases.

Mowing off the foliage and burning after the fruit is picked, destroys insects and fungi present.

I explain these essential features to indicate their importance.

Its work among strawberries tells itself well, yes, a trifle so, but no more so than working among vegetables, and not nearly so tedious as with the small varieties of vegetables, such as onions, radishes and string beans, takes patience to work with any kind of fruit or vegetable, and like the doctor, the more patience we have the more money we make.

Soil which has grown vegetables is generally sufficiently fertile to produce a large yield of strawberries. Soil in which potatoes have been grown is ideal.

Strawberries and vegetables can be sold from the same wagon at the same time, and if you have berries of high quality it will aid you in selling your vegetables, because farmers and grocers always are on the lookout for the choicest quality.

The fruit of the choicest quality is the same in true of the commission merchant, and if you sell to private families you will find the housekeeper wants the best.

To the gardener who has never grown strawberries, but would like to combine them with his vegetable business, let me suggest that you begin in a small way, and increase your acreage as experience and local conditions may justify you in doing.

Many commercial gardeners know from experience that strawberries make a profitable addition to their vegetable business. No other crop with which I have ever had any experience will yield as many dollars per acre, and do it in so short a time, as strawberries. It is not an uncommon thing to get reports from growers who are realizing an average from $500 to $1,500 per acre each year from their strawberries. Reports of the larger quantities generally come from strawberry growers who have the advantage of a long fruiting season.

Last winter while studying the conditions and possibilities of strawberry growing in the south, I met men in southern Texas who told me that their strawberries made them $1,000 to $1,500 per acre each year. On the Pacific coast and in the inter-mountain states, I met men who were doing even better than this.

In Michigan, my own state, many growers are realizing from $500 to $1,000 in the following fall. In some cases all but the most thrifty may be removed when a foot high. The one remaining must be staked in order to prevent its breaking off or becoming distorted.

Avoid Bark-ing Trees. In cultivating the orchard, care should be taken to cover the ends of the wire-trees with leather or rubber, and high hames or other protection on the harness should be discarded to avoid barking the trunks and limbs of the trees.

Get a Spray Calendar. Every one who intends to spray fruits or vegetables should get a spray calendar, which gives the proportions and methods for the various sprays, also the best methods of applying the same.

Encourage Mice and Rabbits. Care should be taken to remove all weeds grown or other litter which might harbor mice. It is frequently advantageous to wrap the tree trunks with wire netting, tar paper, or burlap to protect them from mice or rabbits.

Discourage Mice and Rabbits. Care should be taken to remove all weeds grown or other litter which might harbor mice. It is frequently advantageous to wrap the tree trunks with wire netting, tar paper, or burlap to protect them from mice or rabbits.

THE PRICE OF LAND INCREASING

THE "BACK TO THE LAND" CRY IS EFFECTIVE.

Travelling through the state of Iowa the other day, and Iowa is in connection to the story that is so related, the writer was shown a farm that was offered three years ago for $250 an acre. That appeared to be a high figure for land upon which the crops depended upon the crops of corn, hogs and cattle that could be raised upon it. But it wasn't. A few weeks since the farm changed hands at $325 an acre. Over in Illinois, down in Indiana, up in Wisconsin, across the line in Minnesota, the same experience was met with. And then attention is directed to Canada, which has been the Mecca of so many hundred thousand Americans during the past few years. Not only in Eastern Canada has the price of lands increased, but in Western Canada, during the past few weeks, farm lands have increased from three to five dollars an acre, with the prospect of a similar advance during the next three months. The reason for this is very apparent, and in a few words it may be pointed out that the lands are worth a great deal more than the present price. The Northwestern Agriculturist of Minneapolis, a paper that was one of the first of the American farm papers to discover the real merits of the lands of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, says: "The prospect would encourage American farmers to move to Canada, where the virgin soil will produce greater crop of grain with less labor than can be produced in our own farms in the Northwest. The result will be to enhance land values in Canada." This paper is afraid land values in Canada will advance in the expense of land values in the United States. In fact the United States are increasing the price of land values in Canada. The reason for the advance in value of Canadian lands is partly accounted for by the fact, admitted by this paper, that Canada's virgin soil will produce "greater crops of grain with less labor." But that is not the only reason. During the past twelve months 320,000 people have made Canada their home and these are mostly of the farming class. They want farms, and the demand as well as the wealth of the soil is regulating the price. A study of the increase in the acreage of land put under crop last year, which can be had from any Canadian government representative will prove the point that the demand is increasing at a greater rate than even the most engine would have predicted.

Expert Testimony. There was not much to be gained from the witness on the stand, who seemed to have a wonderful faculty for holding his tongue, but the lawyer lifted onto me.

"You say you went picked up the accused at 9 o'clock, of thereabouts," he said. "It has been stated that he jumped overboard nearly an hour before that time." "Well, me, Captain Samson, how he appeared to you when you picked him up. If you had been required to give an opinion of him then, what would you have said?"

"Well, I'll tell ye honest, said the captain, when he had dismissed of a portentous yawn, "I sh'd've said he was one of the wettest men I fob the wettest man, that ever see!"

A Spley Subject

John Lane, the well-known publisher, said at a literary dinner in New York:

"As an editor I had nobody so particular as the amateur contributor. If the amateur were half as ingenious in writing his material as in trying to land it, he would become a Dickens in no time."

"An amateur said the other day to an editor I know:

"Allow me to submit this bear story."

"My readers don't care for bear stories," said the editor. "They want something splay."

"But this," said the amateur, "is a story about a cinnamon bear."
