Prince of a guy 'Mr. Wrong'

E.J. CAMP

Comedy: Happily single Martha Alston (Ellen DeGeneres) is a thirty-something TV talkshow talent coordinator starting to feel social and family pressures to find a man. Her intended Whitman Crawford (Bill Pullman) is not exactly the prince she imagined.

Martha Alston (Ellen DeGeneres) is a thirty-something talent coordinator for a local TV talk show who is suddenly feeling societal and family pressures to find herself a prince of a guy, settle down, and raise a brood of Charmings in "Mr. Wrong" opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters.

However, Martha is resigned to staying happily single. She believes that when the time is right, she and the man of her dreams will serendipitously find each other.

Then along comes Whitman Crawford (Bill Pullman). He's ruggedly handsome, drives a luxury sports car, lives in an impressive home, appears cultured, sensitive and passionate. He sweeps Martha off her feet in a heartbeat. Before long however, Martha realizes she's dating a guy who's as right on the outside as he is wrong on the inside. And the ratings on their romance quickly plummet.

What Martha gets in the package deal is Whitman's fiendishly jealous ex-girlfriend Inga (Joan Cusack); his possessive mother (Joan Plowright); and Whitman, who becomes increasingly obsessed with his new-found love — all of which transforms Martha's life into a quirky comedy of romantic insanity.

PREVIEW

Calamity prevails as Martha realizes that all too often, dream dates become nightmares, and fairy tales aren't always what they're cracked up to be.

Touchstone Pictures presents A Mandeville Films/Marty Katz Production, "Mr. Wrong," directed by Nick Castle, written by Chris Matheson & Kerry Ehrin and Craig Munson. The film is produced by Marty Katz. Buena Vista Pictures distributes. It is rated PG-13.
