■ Speaking of the CAA, Kathy Penske hosted a luncheon there June 17 to salute the committee which made the "Art of the Eye" exhibition a reality. The juried show by visually impaired artists will run through July 7 at the Bloomfield Hills museum. It's a collaboration of the Delta Gamma Fraternity, CAM and the Museo Family of Companies. Fund raising in conjunction with the exhibit, including a Gala chaired by Meredith Jennings, enabled six agencies serving the blind to receive $1500 each.

■ Why change the topic when we're on a roll? Cranbrook Art Museum's peristyle and fountains will be the setting for Serious Moonlight Saturday, July 13. Birmingham art gallery owner David Klein and Rochester Hills art lover Carlos Carmona are chairing the mid-summer night rendezvous to benefit CAM. Plans include fine food from fine restaurants, libations and dancing to the Carey Kocher Sextet. Garden party attire is suggested. Call CAM at (810) 415-3232 for tickets ($75).

■ The Nordstrom Gala benefiting the Junior Leagues of Birmingham and Detroit Links is Wednesday, Aug. 14, not Friday, Aug. 16, as reported here last week. For an invite call (810) 646-2115.

■ Bonnie Lockwood chaired the Women's Committee/American Lung Association recent annual meeting and luncheon at Orchard Lake Country Club. Everybody was talking about the creative tables decorated by such clever members as Joyce Pipple, Carmen Dallas, who used Greek artifacts for "Lunch among the Ruins;" Bettina Gregg, who assembled miniature teapots; and Arlene Brown's "Gone Fishin'." The latter featured live gold fish which escaped!

■ Outgoing president Sharon Rees passed the gavel to Linda Schafer whose board includes Bettina Gregg, P.K. Field-Hen, Linda Deutsch, Kathy Hitecock, Dallas and Ida Krandle. Among those applauding the leadership were Schafer's mom and sister, Blanche Pollack and Bobbi Toll, Toll's daughter Candice, Gregg's daughter Amanda, and Rees' daughter Margaret.

■ Another soon-to-open Somerset North store, Henri Bendel, invited potential customers to a preview of its innovative fashions earlier this month. The cocktail social attracted 150 to Stetline in Somerset Collection. Troy Day and evening fashions by Anna Sui, Marc Jacobs and Zoran won rave reviews.

■ Send materials and ideas for Sabarban Accents to Sally Gerak, 635 Puritan, Birmingham 48009 or call (810) 646-6390.
