RICHARD F. SCAVO, D.D.S., M.S.

RICHARD F. SCAVO, D.D.S., M.S. specializes in orthodontic care for children and adults. Dr. Scavo's practice gives personalized, individual attention. Orthodontics is a dental specialty for the diagnosis of dental and facial irregularities in both adults and children or for cosmetic purposes. For years, braces were thought of as something only used on children. With the use of modern braces made over the years, many adults are now discovering that they do not have to live with malocclusion pain or crooked teeth. An improved, healthy smile at age is a definite boost to one's self-confidence which can influence social and career success. The best starting time for orthodontic care is determined by each problem. The American Association of Orthodontists recommends age 7 as a good age for a first visit. Even earlier is advised if the problem is noted by either parent or the family dentist. Early diagnosis and treatment can frequently prevent more serious problems from developing. Dr. Scavo and his staff of dental assistants are providing the best orthodontic care. They use state-of-the-art orthodontics including meeting and exceeding all sterilization techniques in a relaxed, comfortable and friendly environment. Seeing your Orthodontist regularly will help you maintain a lifetime of beautiful smiles! This information has been brought to you by the Institute of Center Health through the courtesy of RICHARD F. SCAVO, D.D.S., M.S. located at 31159 Haggerty Road (at 14 Mile) in Farmington Hills. Call 661-5900 for more information or to schedule an appointment.
