All-Area

Harrison's Roth on elite squad

Repeat selections Rob Block of Livonia Stevenson and Jared Roth of Farmington Hills Harrison highlight the 1996 All-Area Boys Cross Country team.

Block, a junior, was the Oberverland's top cross country runner and has won his city meet for three straight years. He is hoping to repeat his trip of last year to the United States Track and Field finals.

Roth, who started running as a sprinter, made the All-Area team last year in his first year of competitive cross country running.

Jared Roth: Harrison senior made first team again.

Jared Roth, senior, Farm. Harrison: "Jared is the fastest runner I have ever coached." The Hawks' John Reed said. "He has a terrific future of running ahead of him. He's very coachable and competitive - and a terrific person." Roth finished 23th in the state meet individually, was second to Block in the Western Lakes championships and placed sixth in his regional. "A lot of colleges have shown interest in him because he's accomplished a lot in a short time," Reed said of Roth.

Mike Felczak, senior, Stevenson: "Mike is a runner who is very competitive." Spartans' coach Gores said. "He has a very good sense for pace and has been able to use that ability successfully in his races." Felczak ran second to teammate Block in the Livonia city meet and was seventh in the Western Lakes meet. He was 39th in the individual race at the state finals.

John Griffin, senior, Catholic Central: "Although quiet by nature, John has manifested remarkable leadership qualities. Catholic Central coach Tony Magni said, "not only academically, but also in his capacity as leader of our team. He endures to his maximum potential and participates with selfless concern, dedication and loyalty." Griffin was second in the Haslet Invitational, third in the Catholic League championship, fourth in the Operation Friendship meet and third in the state regional.

Chris Laney, senior, Catholic Central: "Chris is an excellent example of running in the summer and hard work paying off." Shamrocks' coach Magni said. "He steadily improved each year to become one of the elite runners in the Catholic League and in the area. He was our most consistent runner. Griffin and Laney gave CC an excellent 1-2 combo. He finished fourth in the Haslet Invitational, fourth in the Catholic League championship, eighth in the Operation Friendship meet and eighth in his state regional.

Shaun Moore, junior, Canton: "Shaun is the kind of kid who will listen to what you have to say, understand it and in a relatively short time take action on it," said Canton coach Mike Spitz. "He started out as a middle of the pack JV runner last year. But he kept on working, and by the end of last season he was No. 3 on the varsity." Moore turned in his best run of the year in the state finals, where his 16:56.29 put him 48th. He was No. 1 in every meet but one this year. Spitz laid out what Moore had to do to become a top runner - and the youngster went out and did it. He finished fifth in the Western Lakes meet and 15th in his regional.

Joe Wojtowicz, senior, John Glenn: "Joe provided outstanding leadership this season as co-captain." Rockets coach Jess Shough said. "He was very consistent, scoring as a medalist in every Invitational in which he ran. He is an outstanding individual." Wojtowicz established the John Glenn course record with a personal best time of 16:55 at Central City Park. He was 13th in his regional.

Josh Burt, sophomore, Franklin: "Josh developed into an extremely competitive and consistent runner." Patriots' coach Bob Holmes said. "He never had an off race during the entire season and peaked for the big races at the end." Burt was 52nd individually at the state meet, was fourth in the Livonia city meet and 16th in his regional. His best time was 16:57.

Jon Little, sophomore, Salem: "Jon has a great desire to win." Rocks' coach Geoff Baker said. "He is a hard worker and will be one of Salem's best." Captained the team as a sophomore. Best regular season time was 17-minutes flat but lowered that to 16:44.6 in the USAF state meet, where he ran fifth overall. Was ninth in the Western Lakes meet, 24th in his regional and fourth in the Crestwood Invil.

Dan Danic, senior, Catholic Central: "A great example of perseverance."

Being injured his sophomore and junior years, Dan never gave up. He matured into a very competitive runner. Despite his own personal achievements, Dan is a team player at all times." Danic placed ninth in the Catholic League championship, 10th in the Operation Friendship meet and 15th in his regional.

FIRST-TEAM SELECTIONS

Rob Block, junior, Livonia Stevenson: "Rob knows how to race," said his coach, John Gores. "He knows how to read his body and is able to combine that with a fierce competitive attitude." Block led area runners in the state meet, finishing 17th in 16:27.47. His best time was 16:17 at Cass Benton. He was undefeated in dual meets and captured the Western Lakes conference championship. Block has run in the state meet since his freshman season.

I work hard for a living. And the personals work hard for me.

I don't have all kinds of time to be running around singles bars looking for the person of my dreams. Then a friend told me how she keeps her social life in gear. With the personals. Fast, easy, free... and it works. Their new features even introduced me to other advertisers who are just my type. Now that's my idea of finding love in the nineties.

PERSONAL SCENE

Hoop teams refreshed, ready for tourney

"OK, kid, would you like to be like me?" smiles the man behind the counter in the wire-rimmed glasses.

"What kind of flavors do you got?" the freckle-faced youngster responds.

Without going through the list of all those Foygo Pops, it's a good bet you'll find at least one flavor to your liking, you know, the kind that's a "prodigious, protation of sun-ripened citrus."

No red pop or rock & rye in this group of girls basketball teams, however.

We'll stick mostly with the neutral flavors, the kind that's a "prodigious, protation of sun-ripened citrus."

No red pop or rock & rye in this group of girls basketball teams, however.

November Madness is here once again and I'm running out of ideas for this twice-annual theme.

But here goes, time to give you a few refreshments to wot your appetite for this year's tournament.

MOUNTAIN DEW
 (my favorite)
 Redford Bishop Doregas (14-8): The Spar-ters have motivation, getting clipped in last year's state Class C final by Lansing Catholic Central, Frankenuh, Lansing CC and Detroit DePeters could be stumbling blocks. But these girls have been better tested.

Plymouth Salem (17-3): The Western Lakes champs must get through a tough district (Plymouth Canton and Northville) and a near regional (Birmingham Maier) looms, but this team appears to be up to the task. The could beat a breakthrough year for coach Fred Thomas.

DR. PEPPER
 Plymouth Canton (16-4): A late-season fallop, due to a lack of offense, could put these girls out early. But with a week off, coach Bob Blohm could get things ironed out in time for the third spot deciding game Wednesday with final State.

PEPSI WILD CHERRY
 Wayne Memorial (15-8): The Zebras have had a nice season, earning a co-share of the Mega Conference Red Division title. The Garden City district is very winnable and a spot in the regional finals is highly probable.

MUG ROOT BEER
 Farmington Hills Harrison (12-7): Come on strong during the latter portion of the season, reaching the WLAA championship. The district of Bloomfield Hills Lakas is intriguing, and coach Pete Manly's Hawks are capable.

Livonia Ladywood (12-4): District championship? It's possible for the Dancers at Southfield. Does they can go home in the regional. If only Dan Kennedy could suit up and shoot the three.

MINUTE MAID
 Farmington Hills Mercy (13-0): The Marlins have a tough road to hoe in the Lahser district with Lahser, West Bloomfield and Harrison, all decent teams with good records. But who knows?

FAYGO MOON MIST

Livonia Stevenson (8-12): The Sportsmen haven't won a big game all season, but Wednesday's potential matchup against Livonia at Southfield could put them in the regional, not out of the possibility. If only Mike Drabicki had some eligibility left.

HAWAIIAN PUNCH
 Lutheran Westland (14-3): The Warriors started their season with a loss (Detroit Benedictine) and it could be over tonight against state-ranked Riverview Gabriel Richard. But whatever comes up, a lot of good happened in between for coach Ron Genz's team.

Redford Thurston (18-4): The Eagles tied for the Mega Blue Division co-championship with Taylor Center, but tonight's Class B matchup with host Detroit Renaissance, another state-ranked team, is difficult. Regardless, it's been a nice season for Thurston.

CANADA DRY
 Farmington (7-13): The play this season of Amanda Porter gives the Falcons reason for hope, but the Lahser district draw is not favorable.

7 UP
 Redford Union (13-4): The Panthers are in position to play for the district championship because first-round opponent Redford has really struggled this season. Can they beat either Stevenson or Ladywood in the final?

CREAM SODA
 Livonia Churchville (15-15): The Chargers showed some promise earlier in the year, but couldn't get into the WLAA playoff dance. Tonight's foe, state-ranked Northville, is too good to beat.

Livonia Franklin (8-15): Coach Gary Warner's Patriots could reach the Garden City district championship game with a little luck.

Too bad daughter Dawn is not around to complete the job.

ORANGE CRUSH
 Garden City (3-17): The Cougars are at home, that's the good news for the district. The bad news is that somebody else will be playing for the championship come Friday.

SQUIRT
 Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (12-7): The division champions of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference reached the district final a year ago, but can they get over the hump? The door is open at Taylor (You Light Up My Life).

Crystal Light
 Westland John Glenn (12-20): The Rockets, in search of their first win, could break out tonight against Romulus, the last place team in the Mega White Division.

St. Agatha (10-10): The Aggies are to be commended for playing .500 ball, but winning the Southfield Franklin Road Christian district, with state-ranked Auburn Hills Oakland Christian as the favorite, is a tough task.

COUNTRY TIME
 Plymouth Christian (10-10): Greenhills, Whitmore Lake, Gress Lake? Sounds more like an outdoor hunting and fishing expedition than a district girls basketball tournament. PCA gets to bring the country to the city. Who has the better game? Who knows?

DIET SQUIRT
 Livonia Clarencville (15-17): Thanks to a redraw in the Class C district at Dearborn St. Alphonsus, the Trojans got a reprieve. The business of hand for Clarencville tonight is Detroit Commerce. Originally, the Trojans would have played Borgess. Now they played the winner of St. Alf's and Detroit Communication & Media Arts.

Plymouth Agape Christian (12-4 record last reported): Truly the area's mystery team. That one documented loss came at the hands of Plymouth Christian. I need a root beer.
