a degree in either medicine, pharmacy or laboratory science.

"A degree from Michigan would really set my future," he said. "The whole aura of the school is unbelievable. I took a lot of visits, but none compared to Michigan. When you walk into the (baseball) stadium, it's a great feeling you just can't explain."

Varsity baseball at Harrison was a family affair this year for the Ghannams. Dad Chris was the assistant coach, junior Chris played center field and brother Joe played third base when he wasn't pitching.

"We've all been playing since we were 5 years old; we all came through South Farmington," Ghannam said.

"I never thought I'd be playing with my brothers, Joe and Chris, on the same team, but Joe worked so hard and got better. He grew four inches and put on 20 pounds."

"Chris had a slow start last year, but he had an excellent season this year. No one expected him to hit the ball like he did, and he really had a good year."
