LAXATIVE SENT FREE TO TRY

It may be taken for granted that there is no family that does not sometime need a laxative. If you don't know of a good laxative, or the laxative you are using is losing its effect, we want to call your attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of families are using successfully.

We have scores of letters from mothers, and scores from prominent men saying they are using it personally and giving it to their families, men like Mr. C. K. Smith of the Traffic Clearing House, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Mr. George B. Turner, a lawyer of Harlan, Ky. The thousands of mothers who use it themselves and give it to their children would take too much space to mention.

The reason they prefer Syrup Pepsin is that it is a mild, gentle laxative-tonic that does not gripe—effective and yet so mild that babies can take it. Its tonic ingredients invigorate the body and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they again do their work naturally. If you have been a victim of salts, pills and strong cathartics you will discard them when you once use Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any druggist, but before doing so you may want to try it free. If so, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly forward a free sample bottle. Then, being convinced, do as others are doing and buy it in the regular way of your favorite druggist.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

CURIOUS PLACE OF WORSHIP

Cathedral of Moscow Is Strange in Outline and Has Had a Most Extraordinary History.

One of the most extraordinary and fantastic Christian places of worship in the world is the cathedral of Moscow, strange not only in outline, but even stranger in its history, says the Strand Magazine. No one knows the architect's name, but the story goes that the czar ordered his eyes to be put out as soon as the church was completed, so that he should never be able to surpass his work. The idea of the building was inspired by the wickedest and maddest monarch who ever sat on a throne—Ivan the Terrible of Moscovy. This uncanny looking edifice has been luridly described by a well-known writer. "It is a striking memorial of a fearful era. Standing in the shadow of the Kremlin wall, on soil saturated fathoms deep with the blood of innocent martyrs, examine the building closely and call to memory the people by whom it was produced. Then, and then only, may the conception of this fungus-like excrescence seem possible and Vasili Blajenni stands revealed as an expression of inordinate vanity, uncontrolled passion and insatiate lust. Like attributes without a soul—monstrous, horrible."

OLD TIMES BROUGHT BACK.

Three men and two women from "up the state" who 25 years ago had taken part in an amateur production of "Pinafore" were in the Casino audience one night recently, at the invitation of one of the party, who asked his associates to join him in a "youth renewer." At the supper which followed the Little Buttercup of old said: "Stage, scenery, orchestra, choruses and costumes were much more elaborate than in our home-made entertainment, of course, but the woman who took the part which I sang beat all the others by adding new notes to the score." And then the church choir company of days long past, armed with the old score, gathered around the piano, sang, compared notes and agreed that theirs was not so elaborate, but a more correct performance.—New York Tribune.

EXPLANATORY.

Traveler—It seems you have two penitentiaries in Illinois. I can understand why there is one at Joliet. That's to take care of the Chicago output. But why is there one at Chester?

Peoria Man—That's still easier to understand. We had to have one within reaching distance of East St. Louis.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A BLOW.

He—Smith told me the other day he thought I was suffering from brain fag.

She—Oh, the flatterer!

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
