Beginning The New Year With God

January is a time when we can reflect on our past accomplishments and determine what needs to be done during the coming new year. One possibility is to get most of us started in January, it is to try and get our personal income tax records in order. A more practical concern that we may want to begin planning for, is a family vacation, or an occupational move that may be in our future. Setting some goals for the year is always a good way to help keep us focused on our accomplishments. Planning for our spiritual needs is just as important as planning for our physical needs. With this in mind, we may want to establish a goal to read the Bible each day, or get into a Bible study, or to let set aside a daily prayer time. However, everyone may have different priorities and goals, if we begin the year with God, and make Him our God, He will bless us throughout the year.

Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.
King James Version • 2 Corinthians 5:17
